W.Va. Road Chief Quits; 2 Suspended

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — State Road Commissioner Burl Sawyers resigned and two other state officials were suspended after they and former Gov. William Wallace Barron were indicted Wednesday on bribery and conspiracy charges.

Sawyers, 55, and Barron, 56, were indicted with Deputy State Road Commissioner Vincent J. Johnkoski, 57, and State Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore, 56.

Also indicted were Elkins attorney Bonn Brown, 56, and Clarksburg auto dealer Alfred W. Schroath, 65.

All are charged under the federal conspiracy law—conspiring to transport the proceeds of bribery across state lines. Summoneses were issued after the indictments were announced ordering the defendants to appear in U.S. District Court Feb. 28.

Sawyers resigned as road commissioner several hours after the indictments were made public in Charleston and Washington, D.C.

"I cannot allow any legal action against myself to hinder the continuing development of our road program," he said.

As soon as he heard about the indictments, Gov. Hulett Smith suspended Gore and Johnkoski.

Barron, a Democrat who was West Virginia's attorney general for four years preceding his gubernatorial term which ended in January 1965, issued a statement calling the indictment "part of a continuing effort to harass and discredit me and my administration."

The nine-page indictment alleged Barron and the other five defendants operated a complex scheme in which Schroath established corporations in Ohio and Florida to receive payments from firms seeking to do business with the West Virginia state government.

Among other things the indictment charged that:

— Brown and Schroath represented to various firms that "they could be of assistance in obtaining business from the state. . .in return for a money payment."

— Johnkoski and Gore "aided and abetted by" Barron and Sawyers would steer state business to companies which made payments to the "receiving corporations" in Ohio and Florida.

The indictment alleges 25 "overt acts," listing payment of checks, purchase of shares and interstate transportation and mailing of alleged bribes.

May Or November Ballot?

Bond Issue Seen Question Mark

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio lawmakers are moving ahead with major bills that would clear the way for adjournment, but the administration's $850 million bond issue proposal loomed today as one big question mark.

Various reports were being circulated that Gov. James A. Rhodes wants the issue placed on the November ballot instead of the May primary ballot but the governor insisted it is a question the legislature must decide.

He said it doesn't matter to him so long "as they get on with it."

Legislative leaders said several political considerations were involved as to timing of the bond issue in an election year expected to bring new federal taxes sure to ruffle feelings among voters.

Some observers predicted the administration and the legislature might abandon the whole idea of a bond issue this year despite what one sponsor called "the compelling need" to meet Ohio's highway and capital improvement needs.

The bond issue was the hot topic at the statehouse Wednesday and a number of other significant developments were overshadowed.

Among them:

—The House gave its approval to a Senate-passed bill that may lead to year-round operation of public schools with each student assigned to two of three so-called trimesters.

—The Senate Elections, Commerce and Labor Committee recommended passage of a bill giving statutory authority for public employers to bargain collectively with employe organizations.

—A Senate subcommittee whipped a legislative and judicial pay raise bill into shape with amendments assuring bigger pay hikes for judges in small counties than originally anticipated.

—The Senate Education, Health and Welfare Committee recommended passage of a bill authorizing trustees of state-supported universities to discharge students, faculty, and

Nixon Brings Sanitation Strike Into Political Bid

BOSTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has brought the strike of sanitation workers in New York City into his presidential campaign, declaring that breaking the law "cannot and must not be rewarded."

Twice his statements about the strike touched off thunderous applause as he campaigned in New Hampshire for its March 12 presidential primary, the earliest in the nation.

Nixon is in Boston today for a $500 per ticket fund-raising event, a meeting with Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe and an address to the 101st annual Middlesex Club Lincoln Day dinner.

He told a tightly packed audience of 1,400 at a Republican rally in Derry, N.H., Wednesday, "there is no protest that justifies the use of lawlessness or violence to accomplish its end."

Earlier at the University of New Hampshire in Durham Nixon said of the New York strike, "breaking of the laws of the state of New York, or any other state cannot and must not be rewarded by giving those who break the law what they are asking for."

Mayor John V. Lindsay was correct, he said, in asking Gov. Nelson A. Rockfeller to send the National guard into the city.

Rockefeller turned down Lindsay's request for guard aid and ended the nine-day strike with a plan for a temporary state take-over of the city sanitation department with wage payments higher than the mayor would accept. But the legislature balked at approving the plan and tossed the ball back to the mayor for further negotiations.

In supporting the mayor, Nixon impliedly threw the barbs at Rockefeller. The New York governor says he is not a candidate for the presidency, but some Republicans remain skeptical.

One is former New Hampshire Gov. Wesley Powell. He has not endorsed the candidacies of either Nixon or the former vice president's chief opponent in the New Hampshire primary, Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

U.S. Marine Jets Bomb Hue In Struggle To Crush Reds

Vance Says Talks Good, Very Useful

Seoul's Officials Satisfied; Other Parties Critical

SEOUL (AP) — U.S. presidential envoy Cyrus Vance left for Washington today saying his talks with South Korean leaders had been "good and very useful." South Korean officials expressed general satisfaction, but legislative spokesmen of both the government and opposition parties were critical.

Vance promised the South Koreans "immediate consultations" whenever their security is threatened. But he balked at the demand for a pledge of immediate retaliation.

The official spokesman for the ruling Democratic Republican party said: "It is hard to believe that the contents of the communique would eliminate the people's worries about increased North Korean provocations."

Assemblyman Kim Yung-sam, floor leader of the opposition New Democratic party said: "So little has been achieved that we wonder for what the American presidential envoy came."

Vance and South Korean President Chung Hee Park wound up four days of bargaining sessions with a joint communique which denounced the "increasingly aggressive and violent actions of the North Korean Communists over the past 14 months in violation of the armistice agreement."

The communique said Vance and Park "recognized the need for continuing modernization" of South Korea's armed forces and Seoul's plan to bolster its defenses by arming Korean war veterans.

This indicated that the United States had made some commitment in response to demands for modern arms and equipment, particularly heavy arms. Much of South Korea's arsenal is of World War II vintage.

Vance and Park held their second meeting only 3½ hours after the U.S. envoy had emerged from an all-night session with Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah.

Vance and Park pledged that their governments would consult at once to determine what action should be taken under their mutual defense pact if Communist aggression continued.

American Destroyers Back Attack

Assault Aimed At Diehard Reds Still In Walled Citadel

SAIGON (AP) —U.S. Marine jets bombed the massive brownstone walls of Hue's Citadel for the first time today and American destroyers kept up an offshore bombardment of pockets in the ancient city where North Vietnamese remnants held out for a 16th day.

The Marine fighter-bombers, which had heretofore limited their attacks to rockets, napalm and tear gas, started using 250, 500 and 750-pound bombs in the accelerated land, sea and air attack against the Communist die-hards.

U.S. destroyers fired five-inch shells into Hue in a continuation of a naval bombardment that spokesmen said was begun several days ago to augment the fire of land-based artillery. Hue is near the coast and well within the range of the destroyer guns.

A suspicious number of men of military age among refugees seeking to flee from the north side area of the fighting to the comparative safety of the south side led South Vietnamese soldiers to cut an escape route. Allied authorities believe Viet Cong were choosing this means to get away.

The soldiers towed off a pontoon bridge section that was the one avenue of movement across the Perfume River dividing the city.

Over North Vietnam, two more U.S. planes were lost Wednesday as American warplanes hit the Hanoi heartland Wednesday with the heaviest strikes in six weeks. U.S. pilots said they pounded the vital Canal des Rapides bridge just outside Hanoi and two airfields with 3,000-pound bombs and knocked out four missile sites in the protective ring around the Communist capital.

The United States has now announced the loss of 790 American combat planes in the three years of air war against North Vietnam.

Another American plane—which the Pentagon said was unarmed—was shot down by Red Chinese over China's Hainan Island Tuesday night, and the U.S. Command reported earlier that American pilots shot down two Communist MIGs Wednesday northwest of Hanoi.

Other U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers joined American ground troops, army helicopter gunships and artillery 12 miles northwest of Saigon in a massive attack on a Communist force caught in the open this morning. A sweep of the area after the battle produced 127 enemy bodies, the U.S. Command reported.

AP photographer Al Chang reported from Hue, the former imperial capital 400 miles northeast of Saigon, that the Marine

Latest Peace 'Feeler' With Hanoi Failure

Rusk Declares U.S. Remains Interested If Reds Take Step

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest round of peace probing between the United States and North Vietnam has not produced any basis for halting the bombing of the North and opening peace talks.

But Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in reporting this Wednesday, declared the United States remains interested "in a serious move toward peace when Hanoi comes to the conclusion that it is ready to move in that direction."

Rusk issued a statement after reports from Paris and Rome of intense diplomatic activity on the peace front involving U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani of Italy. Both have talked with North Vietnamese representatives.

U Thant spent 75 minutes in Paris Wednesday with Mai Van Vo, chief North Vietnamese representative there. News dispatches reported he left the meeting convinced North Vietnamese and U.S. positions are too far apart to provide hope for any early peace conference.

Fanfani met early this month with two Hanoi representatives who arrived in Rome Feb. 4 and left Feb. 6, according to an announcement of the Italian Foreign Ministry. A report of his discussions was dispatched to the State Department here immediately after the talks.

The department was also reported to have been informed of Thant's contacts with North Vietnamese officials in the course of a trip that has taken him to Moscow and New Delhi as well as Paris.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey, asked whether Rusk's totally negative report on the probings covered the Thant and Fanfani exploration, replied: "It takes into account everything we know."

"At no time has Hanoi indicated publicly or privately," Rusk said in a statement, "that it will refrain from taking military advantage of any cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam. Nor has it shown any interest in preliminary discussions to arrange a general ceasefire."

New Building Due

Social Security Office Site Set

Construction is expected to begin shortly on a new one-story office building at 212 E. 5th St. — the site of a parking lot adjacent to the former Moore's Furniture Store — to house the Social Security Administration offices.

The building is to be constructed by the William H. Vodrey Trust.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Congressional District today announced the General Services Administration at Washington has accepted the offer to provide office space for the Social Security operations in East Liverpool.

The Social Security office presently is located on Dresden Ave.

The rental of $10,200 a year will include services and utilities, according to the GSA contract. The building is to be available for the Social Security move by July 1.

The office will have 2,850 square feet of space, with a parking area for staff members at the rear.

Contract for the brick veneer structure has been let to the Lee Adkins Construction Co., with an actual completion date set for June 1.

The building will have a gas-fired heating and air conditioning system.

The William Vodrey Trust includes the heirs in the will of the late William H. Vodrey, and includes William H. Vodrey III, Joseph K. Vodrey and Louise Vodrey Boyd.

Sens. Byrd, Scott Speak Out

Confidence Seen Ebbing In LBJ Handling Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two senators who support administration objectives in Asia say public confidence is ebbing in President Johnson's handling of the Vietnam war.

Their assessments paralleled Gallup Poll findings that only 35 per cent of the people it surveyed approve of Johnson's war strategy.

Sens. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who subscribe to the President's policy of opposing Communist aggression in Southeast Asia, said the people are disturbed because they can see no end to the war.

Byrd, who has called for stepping up the war to a winning pace, told the Senate Tuesday that in talking to more than 500 constituents during a recent tour, "I found deepening concern and increased dissatisfaction with the way the Vietnam war is being conducted."

He said Virginians support the troops sent to fight in Asia and "support our government in time of crisis, but increasingly they question the wisdom and judgment of our leaders."

Byrd called for a reappraisal of policies on the basis of widespread U.S. commitments he said make this country vulnerable in many areas, including Korea and the Middle East.

He said these "dramatize the need for the administration to develop a sense of urgency in bringing the Vietnam war to an honorable and early conclusion, which is not likely to be accomplished without a change in policies and procedures."

Scott told a student audience in Brookings, S.D., the people are frustrated "with an unpopular war to which no one sees an end" and by a "babble of solutions" that seemed likely to solve nothing at all.

Reviewing world problems, he added:

"Wherever on the great globe itself the leaders of the people seem inept and their excuses for errors lack credibility, then the national mood of the country turns to frustration and depression. That is the national mood in the United States today."

Straying U.S. Craft Downed By Red China

No Word On Fate Of Pilot; Second Escapes MIG Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says the U.S. Navy Al Skyraider shot down by Chinese MIGs Tuesday inadvertently strayed into Communist airspace because of navigational difficulties.

There was no immediate word on the fate of the pilot of the slow-flying, propeller-driven craft.

The pilot of a second Skyraider which escaped the MIG attack and fled to Da Nang, South Vietnam, "last saw the other plane in a vertical dive and smoking," the Pentagon said.

Phil G. Goulding, assistant secretary of defense said the two Navy planes were about five miles from China's Hainan Island.

Red China, which claims a 12-mile water and airspace territorial limit, accused the United States of war provocations in a Peking Radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

"Navy pilots of the People's Liberation Army immediately dealt a heavy blow and shot down one of them and damaged the other," Peking said.

The Pentagon denied several hours later that the second plane had been damaged and said its pilot was unharmed.

The Pentagon said it did not know how many MIGs were involved.

The Skyraiders were on a ferry flight from Cubi Point in The Philippines to the aircraft carrier Coral Sea in the Tonkin Gulf.

It was the ninth reported penetration by U.S. planes of Chinese airspace.

Another Skyraider came within a few miles of Hainan Island only a few days earlier, the Pentagon said, but turned back apparently without incident.

Male Comes Through

It had to happen sooner or later!

Grant (Wally) Shoub, a sophomore at Wellsville High School, has been named "Sweetheart" queen in a contest held by "The Tiger Rag," school paper.

The publication sponsored the event in an effort to boost circulation — the gimmick being that to be eligible to cast a vote you had to buy a paper.

Zealous sophs backed the candidate of their choice—Wally Shoub. And now Wally, a perplexed male, is wondering just what he will do with the title of "Sweetheart" queen—as is an equally perplexed sponsor of the contest, Miss Abbie Harris.

Students at the high school are asking: Was it Wally's fantastic sex appeal or was it because he happens to be as good a vote-getter as his father, William Shoub, former mayor of Wellsville.

Little Change Seen, With Snow Flurries

Temperatures have moderated slightly, with snow flurries on the weather menu today and Friday for residents of the tri-state area.

The forecast is for little change in temperature through tomorrow.

U.S. Casualty List Dropped In Viet War

SAIGON (AP) — American casualties in the Vietnam war dropped slightly last week from the record toll of the previous week when the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese launched their countrywide lunar new year offensive.

The U.S. Command in its weekly summary today, said 480 U.S. military personnel were killed last week and 1,484 wounded. In the previous week, 416 American military men were reported killed and 2,757 wounded. The number missing or captured was not reported.

No Word On Fate Of Pilot; Second Escapes MIG Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says the U.S. Navy Al Skyraider shot down by Chinese MIGs Tuesday inadvertently strayed into Communist airspace because of navigational difficulties.

There was no immediate word on the fate of the pilot of the slow-flying, propeller-driven craft.

The pilot of a second Skyraider which escaped the MIG attack and fled to Da Nang, South Vietnam, "last saw the other plane in a vertical dive and smoking," the Pentagon said.

Phil G. Goulding, assistant secretary of defense said the two Navy planes were about five miles from China's Hainan Island.

Red China, which claims a 12-mile water and airspace territorial limit, accused the United States of war provocations in a Peking Radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

"Navy pilots of the People's Liberation Army immediately dealt a heavy blow and shot down one of them and damaged the other," Peking said.

The Pentagon denied several hours later that the second plane had been damaged and said its pilot was unharmed.

The Pentagon said it did not know how many MIGs were involved.

The Skyraiders were on a ferry flight from Cubi Point in The Philippines to the aircraft carrier Coral Sea in the Tonkin Gulf.

It was the ninth reported penetration by U.S. planes of Chinese airspace.

Another Skyraider came within a few miles of Hainan Island only a few days earlier, the Pentagon said, but turned back apparently without incident.

In Event Of Civil Disorders This Summer

Riot Control Equipment Being Stockpiled In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is stockpiling riot control equipment in strategically located depots across the country, officials said today, and is ready to airlift it to any city if civil disorders break out next summer.

Details of the military establishment's riot duty preparations were disclosed after source reported the President's Commission on Civil Disorders is dissatisfied with the National Guard's performance in quelling last summer's violence, and is considering recommending creation of a specially trained federal riot-control force.

A commission source said the National Guard's effectiveness is limited by lack of proper training and by "the fact most of the Guard is lily-white." He said discussion of a special force has centered on whether it would amount to a national police force; whether it would be a regular Army unit; and at what point it would step into a disorder.

Army and National Guard officials said their planning has been extensive as well as diverse, ranging from obtaining maps of subway, sewer, water and electrical systems in potential trouble spots to preparing menus for mobilized national guardsmen. The North Carolina guard, for example, will have fish with tartar sauce for dinner on the third day if called out.

Strategy sessions have involved thousands of individuals, from the Pentagon's top brass to policemen on the beat.

"I personally feel assured the planning is adequate," said Maj. Gen. Francis Greenlief, deputy chief of the National Guard Bureau. Greenlief and the Guard chief, Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson will tour 40 states this spring, reviewing state and local preparations.

From interviews with Pentagon, National Guard and other officials, these major points emerged:

—The Army is stockpiling special equipment in a half-dozen or so depots, but officials refused to give the exact number or say where they are. "That's classified," one officer said.

Greenlief said "the Army has developed a plan for providing very, very rapidly any additional communications equipment required by the states." He also mentioned search lights and riot-control agents, such as tear gas. Another source said M79 grenade launchers were among the stockpiled equipment.

There also has been "preplanning for air delivery" of the equipment, Greenlief said. Local National Guard commanders know, he said, that "all they have to do is pick up the phone" to request special equipment.

—Training has been broadened. Several hundred Army National Guard and police officials are taking week-long special courses in riot control at Ft. Gordon, Ga., home of the Army's military police.

In addition, the Army has supplied Guard units with detailed riot training plans. These include lessons learned last summer in Detroit, Newark and other cities.

Before summer, Army inspectors will personally review units "in critical areas"—those where the potential for violence is greatest.

—The Army established at the Pentagon last December a 13-member Special Civil Disturbance Board. The National Guard Bureau beefed up one of it sections and renamed it "The Special Office for Military Support to Civil Authority." This office has 237 full-time staffers scattered throughout the nation.

Besides maps and menus, detailed tactical planning includes selection of routes into urban slums, assembly points and buildings where troops can be housed.

ConCon Set For Debate On State's Court System

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Constitutional Convention was prepared to open a grueling round of debate today on a sweeping plan to modernize Pennsylvania's court system.

The judicial article is the last, and probably most difficult, of seven proposals the convention must consider before it completes the job of rewriting four key sections of the state's 94-year-old Constitution.

Convention officials said Wednesday night at least 60 amendments were ready to be introduced to the Judiciary Committee's lengthy court reform proposal.

The number of amendments on hand raised the possibility that delegates would be asked to stay in session through Saturday to complete consideration of the judicial article.

Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick, convention president, had said earlier he would, if necessary, schedule a Saturday session that all seven proposals could be moved into position for final action by week's end.

If Broderick's timetable is met, delegates will be able to give final approval or rejection to the proposals in two days next week.

By law, the convention must complete its work by Feb. 29. Its final recommendations will be put before the voters on April 23.

In a surprise move Wednesday night, convention delegates voted to revamp a proposal that would have permitted the legislature to give special tax breaks to encourage private industrial and commercial development projects.

An amended version of the plan was adopted, by a 123-4 vote, restricting tax concessions to industrial projects sponsored by non-profit corporations.

The original plan had been adopted on Monday after a lengthy discussion.

The revision amendment was sponsored by delegate Herman H. Bank of Fayette County, who also had sponsored the original proposal.

"We decided to change it after concern was expressed that commercial land speculation might develop under the original proposal," Buck said in asking the convention to reconsider the matter.

That was the main argument opponents of Buck's original proposal had used during Monday's heated debate.

Opposition to the proposal had been led by delegate Richard Gerber of Montgomery County, co-chairman of the subcommittee on Taxation.

"This vindicates my position," Gerber said after Wednesday's action.

In other developments, delegates completed consideration of a lengthy Local Government Committee proposal by rejecting 15 proposed amendments that would have made major revisions in the article.

Four amendments to the local government proposal were approved. Two were technical, but the other two made important changes. They would:

— Establish the appointive office of public defender in all of Pennsylvania counties.

— Reduce the number of signatures needed on a petition to place home rule charter questions on the ballot from 10 to 5 per cent of the voters in the last gubernatorial general election in the municipality affected.

Also voted down was a proposed amendment to the Taxation and State finance article that would have given the governor so-called "item veto" powers over the state's capital projects budget.

Voted down, too, was a provision that would have required the governor to submit a five-year spending estimate to the legislature along with his annual budget request.

Firemen Get Pay Increase At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Firemen were granted pay increases here by Council Wednesday night.

Mayor Dwayne Felton presided when the legislators approved a 50-cent-an-hour increase, boosting the hourly pay to $1.75 for those answering calls and to $2 for each practice meeting.

Firemen had asked $2.50 an hour.

Council also voted a $10 quarterly increase in pay to Fire Chief Tony Brandonisio.

Brandonisio also was selected to service the village fire truck for 1968.

The street committee reported receiving complaints relative to sidewalks in the east end of the community.

In other business, Council voted to buy another load of salt for the streets and to pay bills totaling $1,114.

Lawrence Earl, building chairman, thanked the councilmen for the work they did in improving the marshal's office.

The next Council meeting will be Feb. 26.

UFO Answering Service

Just Phone In Your Sightings Of Saucers!

It has been announced that anyone observing an Unidentified Flying Object (UF) within 200 miles of Pittsburgh can call (412) 391-2766. A 24-hour answering service has been established by the newly organized UFO Research Institute located in Pittsburgh.

The institute has been formed to engage in and support scientific inquiry and research into all aspects of unidentified aerial phenomena. Its members will gather and analyze reliable and factual information on past sightings as well as attempt to obtain photographic, magnetic, and other "hard" data during and just after sightings.

In addition to its research activities, the Institute will publish a newsletter to inform its members, the scientific community and the general public of information concerning UFOs. It will sponsor presentations by reputable speakers to provide a forum for discussion of UFOs and will from time to time publish significant documents concerning UFOs.

VARIOUS CATEGORIES of membership are open to interested persons. Inquiries should be addressed to the UFO Research Institute, Suite 311, 508 Grant Street, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15219.

The UFO Research Institute is a non - profit scientific and educational organization formerly known as the Pittsburgh Subcommittee of the National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena (NICAP). The Institute is now an independent group that cooperates with all scientific groups and educational institutions in carrying out its activities. It is seeking financial support from individuals and foundations for the purchase of additional equipment to aid in unravelling the UFO mystery.

"Competent investigators will interview witnesses and investigate the locale of all those sightings which, after preliminary investigation, indicate that an unknown aerial phenomenon may have been seen or is present," man of the Pittsburgh Subcommittee of NICAP, and an insaid William Weitzel, President of the Institute, former chairstructor at the Bradford branch of the University of Pittsburgh.

"WITH THE 24-hour answering service, the large number of sightings taking place in the area, and our network of trained investigators, we are very optimisitc about being able to obtain data during sightings, as well as merely investigating old reports.

"We will protect the identity of witnesses not wanting publicity, though there is growing awareness of the reality and seriousness of UFO phenomena."

STANTON T. FIREDMAN, a nuclear physicist and one of several scientists on the Institute's board of directors, commented: "Surprising as it may seem, my discussions about UFOs across the country on radio and television, and before more than 50 professional and lay groups this past year, have elicited the interest and assistance of a lot of very responsible people, rather than either the ridicule or cultism often associated with flying saucers. A new era of concern for the facts seems to have begun. This has been further demonstrated by the rather astonishing popularity of the Institute's first publication, "UFOs: Greatest Scienific Problem of our Time."

—:—

"I AM ALSO very encouraged by the recent formation of scientific UFO research groups at the University of Toronto and in the Soviet Union, since the problem is certainly world wide."

Boys Foiled In Attempted Jail Escape

Two juveniles who attempted to escape the Hancock County jail Wednesday night — one was successful for a time — are back in their cells today after the break bid was foiled by Sheriff's deputies.

One youth made good his escape and was loose in New Cumberland for about 30 minutes. The other was caught as he tried to vault a fence at the Jail's main gate.

The boys — aged 15 and 16 — both are charged with grand larceny.

The attempted escape occurred around 8:30 p.m. after the boys broke a chair in their juvenile quarters, took pieces of the splintered wood, wrapped them in a towel, pried apart some bars, then slipped through the opening.

One of the boys got over the fence, but a deputy coming to the jail at that time spotted the second and he was taken into custody.

A search began for the other boy who apparently wandered around town, then, finding the weather too cold for his lightweight uniform, returned to the area and hid for a short time in the basement of an adjoining vacant house formerly used as a deputy's residence.

He was recaptured about 9 p. m. He had no coat, and wore only a short-sleeved shirt and trousers.

Judge Hears Traffic Cases

One of six defendants charged by the Ohio Highway Patrol with speeding in Municipal Court this morning pleaded not guilty and his hearing has been set for next Tuesday.

Larry K. Hogue, 22, of Maple Hill, Salinevilie RD 1, entered the plea when he appeared before Judge Samuel Chertoff. He was charged with driving 62 miles-and-hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7 Feb. 7.

Bruce Wayne Garver, 19, of 833 Bradshaw Ave. pleaded guilty to driving 65 miles an hour on Route 7 about 6:40 p.m. Wednesday. He paid a fine of $15 and costs.

Assessed like fines were two other motorists. Chester F. Beaver, 48, of 601 Aten Ave., Wellsville, was arrested about 10:29 p.m. Wednesday by the patrol and charged with driving 61 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. John I. Shedler Jr. of Dysart, Pa., RD 1, was charged just before that — at 10:24 — for doing 65 miles an hour in the same zone.

Two others forfeited in speeding cases.

Wayne Spry Overman,, 28, of Salisbury, N.C., RD 3, forfeited $27.50 for driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was arrested on Route 7 about 7:03 p.m. Wednesday. Forfeiting the same bond was Tivis Tipton Minor, 41, of 166 Parkview Dr., Wintersville, who was picked up about the same time on Route 7 and charged with driving 60 miles an hour.

Thomas Earl Sullivan of 2146 Michigan Ave. was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of not having his license plates registered to the proper vehicle. He was involved in a mishap Tuesday on Pennsylvania Ave.

Judge Chertoff sent Ray Poston of Bristol, Tenn. to the County Jail at Lisbon after fining him $100 and costs for intoxication. Poston was picked up about 4:18 p.m. yesterday on St. Clair Ave.

Not Result Of Conspiracy

Riots Were Spontaneous, LBJ Commission Hinting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Commission on Civil Disorders is reportedly moving toward the conclusion that last summer's urban riots were spontaneous—not the result of a conspiracy.

Unless new evidence is unearthed within the next few week, commission sources said that will be a major point in the panel's final report, now being written for release about March 1. Another section will make urgent recommendations on steps to prevent disorders.

"In each case we found agitation before, during and after the riots, but not any planned conspiracy," one official said. "As far as we can tell, all broke out spontaneously.

"That part of our investigation is proceeding right up to the last moment."

Thus far, the commission's findings correspond with testimony it received last August from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. In the six months since then, some of the commission's top aides have devoted much of their time to searching for evidence that the roits were planned.

One investigator reported he encountered, in quiet visits to several urban areas, individual agitators "who like to claim credit for disturbances they had in their cities. But they really can't."

The 11-member panel was appointed by President Johnson last July 29 to investigate the causes of riots that scarred Detroit, Newark and other cities and to recommend preventative action.

The first two sections of the report—what happened and why—are virtually complete, sources said, and members "are down to the nitty-gritty, the real tough decisions" on the third segment—prevention.

Recommendations will cover employment, housing, education and welfare programs, one official said, plus proposed steps to improve police-community relations.

Katherine Graham Peden, former Kentucky commerce commissioner and the panel's only woman member, said in a telephone interview that "I was shocked at the inequality of education" in urban slums.

In Watts, she said, the "poor quality of education is the number one burning issue" cited by most mothers she talked with. "They realize this is the only way to break out of this trap they are in."

Employment and job training programs also are vital, Mrs. Peden said. Slum dwellers "realize that housing conditions and living conditions cannot be improved unless they have gainful jobs . . . and you've got to have a better education to get a better job."

"They become so intertwined that you can't separate one from another," she said of the programs. "All of this has got to be accomplished."

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman, has predicted the findings "will be uncomfortable for the people of the United States."

Another commission member, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., told a reporter, "We all have to understand that this is a crisis and we've got to treat it in this manner. We can't keep on with business as usual and hope these things can be straightened out."

3 Courts Report January Figures

LISBON — The three Columbiana County courts received $7,297 and disbursed $10,707 during January, the clerks have reported to the county commissioners.

Comparative figures were receipts of $11,407 and disbursements of $3,175 in Southwest Court at Lisbon, $11.940 and $5,284 in Eastern and East Palestine and $3,950 and $2,248 in Northwest at Salem.

Southwest reported 110 criminal cases filed, Eastern 122 and Northwest 99, for a total of 331. There were 43 civil cases filed — 23 in Northwest, 12 in Southwest and 8 in Eastern.

Northwest handled four trusteeships and seven small claims, compared with two and 24 in Southwest and one and eight in Eastern.

Sutherland, Karnick Open Congress Bid

A Martins Ferry physician and an investigator from Steubenville officially have launched their bids for nomination as U.S. representative from the 18th Congressional District.

Filing for the post now held by Rep. Wayne L .Hays, a Democrat, were Dr. J. F. Sutherland, a Republican, and Nick B. Karnick of Steubenville, a Democrat.

Dr. Sutherland received his M.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1952.

He is president of the Ohio Valley Chapter of General Practice and president - elect of the medical staff at Martins Ferry Hospital. He and his wife have three daughters.

Karnick, 42, of 1217 Adams St., has been an unsuccessful candidate in the past for Steubenville Council and various Jefferson County offices. Currently, he said, he is involved in investigative work.

Man Struck, Killed By Car

SALEM — Gerald B. Minck, 69, of Western Reserve Rd., died late Wednesday night at Youngstown South Side Hospital of injuries suffered earlier in the evening when he was struck by a hit-skip vehicle on Route 18 near Austintown.

Ohio Highway Patrolmen at Canfield said Minck was walking north across Route 18 when he was run down by the unidentified vehicle which was being driven west on the highway.

Taken to South Side Hospital, Minck was pronounced dead at 11:10 p. m. Mahoning County Coroner Dr. David Belinky listed the man's death as a traffic fatality, caused by a skull fracture and internal injuries.

The patrol is continuing its investigation today in an attempt to locate the vehicle involved believed to have been an automobile.

Funeral arrangements for the victim are pending at the Austintown Chapel of the Lane Funeral Home.

Travels In U.S. To Be Reward

Top Salesmen In 2 Firms Feel LBJ Travel 'Pinch'

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 200 of the Schlitz Brewing Co.'s top wholesalers won't see Tokyo and Hong Kong and the 100 best air conditioning salesmen for Westinghouse Electric aren't going to do Europe.

They're among the first to feel the effects of President Johnson's proposals to keep more tourist dollars at home. The companies have decided to reward their salesmen with travels in the United States, not abroad.

The administration plan—which includes a tax on all travel expenditures above $7 a day outside the Western Hemisphere—also has begun to affect some airlines and travel agencies.

An Associated Press survey has disclosed these reactions:

—An unwritten agreement among some airlines not to talk about the problem. Other airlines, however, did discuss it.

—A decision by the University of Pittsburgh to call off two overseas alumni trips, changing them to "See America First" tours.

—An announcement from the Leisure Village senior citizens community in Lakewood, N.J., that travelers from the retirement community will visit Alaska and Hawaii instead of Europe.

—This comment from a travel agents spokesman in Atlanta: "The damage has already been done."

The survey showed that some airlines have increased their foreign travel advertising budgets by as much as 50 per cent, but with the peak summer travel months ahead, most would say only that it's "too early" to tell about the effect of the President's proposals.

"They don't want to appear to be opposing the Johnson administration," an airline industry source said, "and they are afraid of possible retaliatory actions from the countries involved."

One airline survey—not yet made public—indicated that soon after the President made his proposals, there was a definite trend toward cancellation of trips by business groups, which normally travel in April and May.

Advertisements have begun to appear in newspapers across the United States containing claims by foreign airlines that they spend their profits on American-made aircraft.

A special task force completed work Tuesday in Washington on its first recommendations for increasing foreign travel to this country.

American travelers spent about $2 billion more abroad during 1967 than foreign tourists spent here. The administration hopes to close the travel gap by $500 million this year.

The overall balance of payments deficit last year exceeded $3.5 billion.

Robert M. McKinney, chairman of the Industry-Government Task Force on Travel, described the report as "very fine." It is to be submitted to the President this week. McKinney is publisher of the Santa Fe New Mexican.

The report is certain to call for expanded promotion abroad of U.S. tourist attractions. It reportedly includes some form of accident and medical insurance for visitors and also is expected to recommend lower fares for transportation to and within the United States and special rates for foreign tourists.

Man Convicted Of Non-Support

Paul F. Beabout, 45, formerly of Jethro Hollow, was convicted of non-support of two minor children Wednesday by a Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard deferred sentencing and Beabout was returned to the County Jail, where he has been held in lieu of $1,000 bond since Sept. 14.

The defendant was arrested following his return from California. He claimed he asked his wife to join him there, but she refused.

Jurors for the first criminal trial this term of court were Percy K. Calhoun, Sally R. Cloran and Marguerite S. Purinton, East Liverpool; Jean Fiber, Wellsville; George Everett, Lisbon; Alfred L. Cope, Columbiana; Charles M. Small, Salineville; Lillian Myers and Donna J. Manfull, Kensington, and Henry H. Ickes, August Wikman and Elaine Hickling, Salem. Ruth Snyder, Lisbon, was alternate.

2 Girls Quizzed In Shooting Case

West Virginia state police reported today they have located the two girls who were with Leslie Ramp, 19, of the Pittsburgh area shortly before he was shot in the back as he was leaving the Cove Bar located on the "Strip" in Hancock County.

The two girls, both listed from the Oakland district, Pittsburgh, gave troopers information concerning another suspect.

Ramp, who was shot Feb. 4, is listed in "satisfactory" condition at Weirton General Hospital.

Wellsville Man Fined For Drunken Driving

Warren Urie of 5th St. and Broadway, Wellsville, was fined $250 and sentenced to five days in jail in Mayor William Daugherty's court Wednesday.

Urie was arrested by Wellsville police Tuesday. He had been arrested, fined $200 and sentenced to three days in jail one week earlier, on a similar charge, officers reported.

Minor Fire Quelled At Mill In Midland

A minor fire in the Vacuum-melted products department at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co. was extinguished by the plant fire brigade Wednesday night.

The blaze occurred at 8:32 in a pit under a mechanical grinding table. Midland volunteer firemen were called, but found the blaze out on arrival.

There were no injuries.

UFO Answering Service

Just Phone In Your Sightings Of Saucers!

It has been announced that anyone observing an Unidentified Flying Object (UF) within 200 miles of Pittsburgh can call (412) 391-2766. A 24-hour answering service has been established by the newly organized UFO Research Institute located in Pittsburgh.

The institute has been formed to engage in and support scientific inquiry and research into all aspects of unidentified aerial phenomena. Its members will gather and analyze reliable and factual information on past sightings as well as attempt to obtain photographic, magnetic, and other "hard" data during and just after sightings.

In addition to its research activities, the Institute will publish a newsletter to inform its members, the scientific community and the general public of information concerning UFOs. It will sponsor presentations by reputable speakers to provide a forum for discussion of UFOs and will from time to time publish significant documents concenrning UFOs.

VARIOUS CATEGORIES of membership are open to interested persons. Inquiries should be addressed to the UFO Research Institute, Suite 311, 508 Grant Street, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15219.

The UFO Research Institute is a non - profit scientific and educational organization formerly known as the Pittsburgh Subcommittee of the National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena (NICAP). The Institute is now an independent group that cooperates with all scientific groups and educational institutions in carrying out its activities. It is seeking financial support from individuals and foundations for the purchase of additional equipment to aid in unravelling the UFO mystery.

"Competent investigators will interview witnesses and investigate the locale of all those sightings which, after preliminary investigation, indicate that an unknown aerial phenomenon may have been seen or is present," man of the Pittsburgh Subcommittee of NICAP, and an insaid William Weitzel, President of the Institute, former chairstructor at the Bradford branch of the University of Pittsburgh.

"WITH THE 24-hour answering service, the large number of sightings taking place in the area, and our network of trained investigators, we are very optimisitc about being able to obtain data during sightings, as well as merely investigating old reports.

"We will protect the identity of witnesses not wanting publicity, though there is growing awareness of the reality and seriousness of UFO phenomena."

—:—

STANTON T. FIREDMAN, a nuclear physicist and one of several scientists on the Institute's board of directors, commented: "Surprising as it may seem, my discussions about UFOs across the country on radio and television, and before more than 50 professional and lay groups this past year, have elicited the interest and assistance of a lot of very responsible people, rather than either the ridicule or cultism often associated with flying saucers. A new era of concern for the facts seems to have begun. This has been further demonstrated by the rather astonishing popularity of the Institute's first publication, "UFOs: Greatest Scienific Problem of our Time."

—:—

"I AM ALSO very encouraged by the recent formation of scientific UFO research groups at the University of Toronto and in the Soviet Union, since the problem is certainly world wide."

Judge Hears Traffic Cases

One of six defendants charged by the Ohio Highway Patrol with speeding in Municipal Court this morning pleaded not guilty and his hearing has been set for next Tuesday.

Larry K. Hogue, 22, of Maple Hill, Salineville RD 1, entered the plea when he appeared before Judge Samuel Chertoff. He was charged with driving 62 miles-and-hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7 Feb. 7.

Bruce Wayne Garver, 19, of 833 Bradshaw Ave. pleaded guilty to driving 65 miles an hour on Route 7 about 6:40 p.m. Wednesday. He paid a fine of $15 and costs.

Assessed like fines were two other motorists. Chester F. Beaver, 48, of 601 Aten Ave., Wellsville, was arrested about 10:29 p.m. Wednesday by the patrol and charged with driving 61 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. John I. Shedler Jr. of Dysart, Pa., RD 1, was charged just before that — at 10:24 — for doing 65 miles an hour in the same zone.

Two others forfeited in speeding cases.

Wayne Spry Overman,, 28, of Salisbury, N.C., RD 3, forfeited $27.50 for driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was arrested on Route 7 about 7:03 p.m. Wednesday. Forfeiting the same bond was Tivis Tipton Minor, 41, of 166 Parkview Dr., Wintersville, who was picked up about the same time on Route 7 and charged with driving 60 miles an hour.

Thomas Earl Sullivan of 2146 Michigan Ave. was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of not having his license plates registered to the proper vehicle. He was involved in a mishap Tuesday on Pennsylvania Ave.

Judge Chertoff sent Ray Poston of Bristol, Tenn. to the County Jail at Lisbon after fining him $100 and costs for intoxication. Poston was picked up about 4:18 p.m. yesterday on St. Clair Ave.

Boys Foiled In Attempted Jail Escape

Two juveniles who attempted to escape the Hancock County jail Wednesday night — one was successful for a time — are back in their cells today after the break bid was foiled by Sheriff's deputies.

One youth made good his escape and was loose in New Cumberland for about 30 minutes. The other was caught as he tried to vault a fence at the Jail's main gate.

The boys — aged 15 and 16 — both are charged with grand larceny.

The attempted escape occurred around 8:30 p.m. after the boys broke a chair in their juvenile quarters, took pieces of the splintered wood, wrapped them in a towel, pried apart some bars, then slipped through the opening.

One of the boys got over the fence, but a deputy coming to the jail at that time spotted the second and he was taken into custody.

A search began for the other boy who apparently wandered around town, then, finding the weather too cold for his lightweight uniform, returned to the area and hid for a short time in the basement of an adjoining vacant house formerly used as a deputy's residence.

He was recaptured about 9 p. m. He had no coat, and wore only a short-sleeved shirt and trousers.

Former Convict Set To Speak At Midland

The Midland Assembly of God Church will begin a series of nightly preaching services Tuesday at 7 with Evangelist Eddie Bruckner of Patterson, N. J.

Rev. Bruckner will tell of his conversion to Christ while serving time for armed robbery in prison seven years ago. He will relate experiences of his recent missionary tour of Venezuela.

The Rev. Charles R McClure, pastor, said there will be special music.

Not Result Of Conspiracy

Riots Were Spontaneous, LBJ Commission Hinting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Commission on Civil Disorders is reportedly moving toward the conclusion that last summer's urban riots were spontaneous—not the result of a conspiracy.

Unless new evidence is unearthed within the next few week, commission sources said that will be a major point in the panel's final report, now being written for release about March 1. Another section will make urgent recommendations on steps to prevent disorders.

"In each case we found agitation before, during and after the riots, but not any planned conspiracy," one official said. "As far as we can tell, all broke out spontaneously.

"That part of our investigation is proceeding right up to the last moment."

Thus far, the commission's findings correspond with testimony it received last August from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. In the six months since then, some of the commission's top aides have devoted much of their time to searching for evidence that the roits were planned.

One investigator reported he encountered, in quiet visits to several urban areas, individual agitators "who like to claim credit for disturbances they had in their cities. But they really can't."

The 11-member panel was appointed by President Johnson last July 29 to investigate the causes of riots that scarred Detroit, Newark and other cities and to recommend preventative action.

The first two sections of the report—what happened and why—are virtually complete, sources said, and members "are down to the nitty-gritty, the real tough decisions" on the third segment—prevention.

Recommendations will cover employment, housing, education and welfare programs, one official said, plus proposed steps to improve police-community relations.

Katherine Graham Peden, former Kentucky commerce commissioner and the panel's only woman member, said in a telephone interview that "I was shocked at the inequality of education" in urban slums.

In Watts, she said, the "poor quality of education is the number one burning issue" cited by most mothers she talked with. "They realize this is the only way to break out of this trap they are in."

Employment and job training programs also are vital, Mrs. Peden said. Slum dwellers "realize that housing conditions and living conditions cannot be improved unless they have gainful jobs . . . and you've got to have a better education to get a better job."

"They become so intertwined that you can't separate one from another," she said of the programs. "All of this has got to be accomplished."

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman, has predicted the findings "will be uncomfortable for the people of the United States."

Another commission member, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., told a reporter, "We all have to understand that this is a crisis and we've got to treat it in this manner. We can't keep on with business as usual and hope these things can be straightened out."

3 Courts Report January Figures

LISBON — The three Columbiana County courts received $7,297 and disbursed $10,707 during January, the clerks have reported to the county commissioners.

Comparative figures were receipts of $11,407 and disbursements of $3,175 in Southwest Court at Lisbon, $11,940 and $5,284 in Eastern and East Palestine and $3,950 and $2,248 in Northwest at Salem.

Southwest reported 110 criminal cases filed, Eastern 122 and Northwest 99, for a total of 331. There were 43 civil cases filed — 23 in Northwest, 12 in Southwest and 8 in Eastern.

Northwest handled four trusteeships and seven small claims, compared with two and 24 in Southwest and one and eight in Eastern.

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 200 of the Schlitz Brewing Co.'s top wholesalers won't see Tokyo and Hong Kong and the 100 best air conditioning salesmen for Westinghouse Electric aren't going to do Europe.

They're among the first to feel the effects of President Johnson's proposals to keep more tourist dollars at home. The companies have decided to reward their salesmen with travels in the United States, not abroad.

The administration plan—which includes a tax on all travel expenditures above $7 a day outside the Western Hemisphere—also has begun to affect some airlines and travel agencies.

An Associated Press survey has disclosed these reactions:

A special task force completed work Tuesday in Washington on its first recommendations for increasing foreign travel to this country.

American travelers spent about $2 billion more abroad during 1967 than foreign tourists spent here. The administration hopes to close the travel gap by $500 million this year.

The overall balance of payments deficit last year exceeded $3.5 billion.

Robert M. McKinney, chairman of the Industry-Government Task Force on Travel, described the report as "very fine." It is to be submitted to the President this week. McKinney is publisher of the Santa Fe New Mexican.

The report is certain to call for expanded promotion abroad of U.S. tourist attractions. It reportedly includes some form of accident and medical insurance for visitors and also is expected to recommend lower fares for transportation to and within the United States and special rates for foreign tourists.

Negotiating, Red Style

When the undeclared enemy in Vietnam finally wants to get to the negotiating table as badly as the United States wants to get there, negotiations will get under way.

This could happen when the other side in the war comprehends what the enemy finally comprehended in Korea — that anti-Communist resistance was not going to fold up and blow away. At that point, the North Koreans and their Russian and Chinese backers switched from the battlefield to the negotiating table.

This never should be referred to as the "peace table." Negotiations never should be thought of as a "peace conference." A truce in Vietnam, if one can be reached, should not be considered in the light of a classical truce. A cessation of large-scale killing should not be thought of as peace, either — not when anti-American forces are concerned.

There can be no peace with enemies dedicated to the eventual destruction of every government that does not bend a knee to their ideology. Nikita Krushchev talked about "peaceful coexistence," but he never meant it the way it sounded to hopeful Americans. He meant it the way "peaceful coexistence" sounds to a prisoner and a jailer.

Eventually, there will be a change in the circumstances of the conflict raging in Vietnam. Hopefully, the undeclared enemy there will seek a cessation of large-scale militarism. Meanwhile, however, it must not be overlooked that other people living in Vietnam are hoping the United States will want to taper off the fighting, as it did in Korea. There will be no peace.

There will be no peace talks — not really.

There will be carping, malice-poisoned, fruitless, patience-trying "negotiations," which can be regarded only as the same kind of constrained warfare still being conducted in Korea, though large-scale fighting stopped there 15 years ago next July.

But a state of war still exists in Korea.

It is a reasonable surmise that a state of war will still exist in Vietnam in the 1990s. It will be under another name — "negotiations."

Get Well, Quick!

Few drivers need to be reminded of the individual traits, quirks, special problems of their autos or trucks, any more than the horsemen of yesteryear had to be told of their steed's strong points, weaknesses, speed and feed likes.

But the mass transportation and mass communication developments of the 20th Century have placed an almost embarassing attention to some vehciles, a public concern never realized by ol' Paint.

The mechanical trouble of Bus No. 1 of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's School this week has worried thousands, although only 18 youngsters ride the bus driven by May Mitchell.

The bus was damaged in a collision, and the motor just won't run right — so no school for the students on that route.

Everyone hopes Bus No. 1 will "get well soon." If not — World War II veterans will recall the Bill Mauldin cartoon of the GI cavalryman putting a pistol to the hood of his Jeep . . .

Westmoreland On The Way Out

Critics of Gen. William C. Wesmoreland—both outside and within the Johnson administration—would have no trouble documenting a case against him with an eye toward pulling him off the Vietnam job.

Based on self-evident facts the case is strong against the U. S. military commander as it would be against any general engaged in a war he is not winning.

The record shows 16,000 Americans killed, tens of thousands wounded, no end in sight to the bitter fighting in a shell-shocked nation without unity of purpose.

The present insecurity, lack of control in South Vietnam and the growing disenchantment in the United States is not a criticism of the individual American soldier; it is a reflection of the fallacy of a policy based on ascertainment of limited objectives in a war where the enemy is prepared to go all out.

People are beginning to wonder at the wisdom of destroying much of South Vietnam and killing many of its private citizens in the name of saving it.

Others are wondering how long billions can be poured into Vietnam to the detriment of domestic programs designed to defuse the powder keg in our own country.

Gen. Westmoreland is the man on the hot seat. In his role as commander it is necessary to take an optimistic outlook, evaluate circumstances and recommend courses of action expected to be successful.

His search-and-destroy tactic has not proved effectual, his optimism has been ill founded and his evaluations have been proved wrong by "surprising" strategy of the Viet Cong.

Backers of the general rally to his defense. Their rebuttal consists mainly in citing the favorable allied kill ratio and reminding critics that specific restrictions have been placed on the commander by Washington.

Regardless of what the reasons may be, Gen. Westmoreland has not produced a winner in Vietnam — and that is the responsibility he has been charged with. He has not achieved even limited objectives. Both the military war and the political war are going badly. That fact seals the fate of Gen. Westmoreland.

He will not be bluntly dismissed from his command. He will be relieved of it as painlessly as possible—by being kicked upstairs.

President Johnson then would have a new defense secretary in Clark M. Clifford and a new field commander to throw into the middle of the Vietnam quagmire in hopes of salvaging something.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

At a meeting of the Tri-State Association of American Legions — of which I am chaplain — at Canton Sunday, I was amazed to learn of the progress made in the Canton school system.

As a result of this, I recommend the Columbiana County Board of Education arrange construction of an immense vocational school on the outskirts of Lisbon, perhaps near the Fairgrounds, where boys and girls from all over the county could go after their first or basic year at their own high school.

This project would consolidate the vocational programs, instead of each high school trying to with limited space and funds to attempt the job. Students in the program could return to their own home high school to graduate the other way if they would so choose.

REV. GEORGE GRAFTON
Wellsville

(Editor's Note: Seven Columbiana County high schools are currently training students in the Cooperative Vocational School District, sending students to various schools.

Plans are also being made by a steering committee, representing all boards of education in the county, for a broader vocational program, for either all 11 districts or nine districts without East Liverpool and Salem.

The cost estimate for a county centralized vocational school with 49 vocational units and 21 academic units has been set at $3.8 million. State and federal funds could make up half the construction cost if county voters approved a bond issue.

It would cost an estimated $760,000 annually to operate the school, of which $291,000 would be supplied by the state.)

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Where do the Wellsville police put in their time? Surely not patrolling the city, especially at night when the hoodlums are running wild and destroying property, stealing, etc.

I am an elderly widow, living alone, but I do keep my property up and try to make it as attractive as my neighbors'.

While I was out of town visiting my ailing brother, somebody broke down a nice covered bird feeder in the yard, pulled down and broke to pieces a new feeder I had just bought, also a wren box I had hanging in a large azalea bush. They also took all the electric light bulbs out on the back porch, and stole bulbs from my neighbors outside lights too.

Ours is one of the nicest and well-kept streets in town, and we like to keep it that way, but how can we do that if these hoodlums are allowed to run wild and destroy our properties? What do we have police for if it's not to protect our property and ourselves.

NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST

(Editor's note: Although there are isolated cases of vandalism in Wellsville—and in other communities of the area—there is no exceptional outbreak of hoodlumism in Wellsville so far as our staff can determine.

Police officers have a large territory to patrol in every city, and cannot safeguard every home minute by minute. Officers advise us you did not notify them you would be out of town, or request a special watch on your house which might have enabled them to give it additional protection.

Since your report of the problem to the police, officers have been increasing surveillance in your neighborhood.)

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Our annual March of Dimes campaign has ended, and I would like to express my sincere "thanks" to all those who helped in anyway to make it a success.

A special thanks to my co - chairman and each Marching Mothers, the First National Bank, and the city policemen for their patroling in the East End.

I had wonderful cooperation from everyone, and through this work, we met some of the nicest people in the area, for which I'm grateful.

Many, many thanks also to those who gave so generously for the advancement of helping to fight birth defects.

Small Strikes Cripple War

WASHINGTON — War or no war, this nation is at that point in its history when a garbage strike whips up more hysteria than stoppages which are crippling speedy production of bombs, vital rifles, small arms ammo, armored vehicles, critical Navy equipment, and artillery parts.

Victor Riesel

Apparently, American troops will run out of ammunition long before the public runs out of patience.

Or perhaps the public, confused, simply feels no sense of urgency, for, after all, the war is not a transit strike or a street cleaners' holiday.

Obviously, as the TV comedians say, happiness is not a sense of urgency. Nor is it harrowing compassion for men wounded and dying.

Or perhaps it's just that so very few have taken much time to truly explain to so many what's happening.

There seems to be so little urgency or understanding or pressure that Teamsters Local 969 actually struck the RCA-operated Ballistic Missile Early Warning System radar observation site at Clear, Alaska.

The post, about 1100 miles south of the Arctic circle, was put there to give the continental U.S. at least 15 minutes warning that an enemy missile was coming our way.

But what has that to do with wages and fringes? The 157 Teamsters walked out on Christmas Eve and have been on strike ever since. Supervisors now man the post as best they can.

And not too long ago an executive at the Chamberlain Corp.'s (Burlington, N. J.,) 81mm shell plant — a mighty crucial one — pleaded with the Pentagon to dispatch one of its eloquent officers to deliver some enlightening speeches at the munitions factory.

"PEOPLE JUST AREN'T enthusiastic about the war effort," the company executive said. "There's no driving desire."

His problem was simple. The Defense Department had been screaming for the 81mm mortar shells and 105mm cartridge cases which the firm had contracted to deliver. But how can one meet production schedules with absenteeism averaging 25 per cent?

So the Pentagon sent in its brass. But the absenteeism remained steady despite the rising tempers.

But, at least, there has been some delivery. The record has not been quite as good over at Minden, La., where the government has one of its most gargantuan bomb factories. It is a huge complex known as the Louisiana U.S. Army Ammunition Plant.

There are some 20 buildings, in each of which considerably different munitions are whipped out — usually. At normal times the shells just lie out there in long and seemingly endless rows.

But when the International Chemical Workers Union's contract opened up, there were disagreements over lots of issues. The union struck on January 24. The Machinists have thousands of members in that installation. They did not walk out.

But the 3,600 chemical workers decided to cripple the lines in other buildings there. Despite desperate pressure from the Pentagon and patient reasoning by Federal Mediation Service chief William Simkin, a Solomon-like man, the strikers are still out at this writing.

And on it has gone now for many months in all parts of the land. Mostly the strikes are small — involving anywhere from 350 to 1,600 employes. But that is the nature of our defense production today. Tens of thousands of small plants, all gridded together into one fantatic network of supply channels leading to big central depots.

SOME OF THESE small plants, for example, supply small parts for the Cadillac Gage Co. plant, on which the Pentagon depends for much of the military's armored vehicles. There the stoppage came when the firm disciplined a United Auto Workers shop steward.

Or there is the Maremont Corp. in Saco, Maine. There, members of the Textile Workers Union of America struck for higher wages. They shut down the plant for a week — though it's the only source of the M60 machine gun.

But because most of the struck plants are small, the stoppages go virtually unnoticed.

Even when the munitions and the gun, tanks, and more secret weapons are finally produced and loaded aboard railroad cars for a fast run to California ports, and the rails are hit by a strike, few seem to care.

Thus the military recently found itself boxed in by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen strike. They had 22 heavily laden ammunition cars ready to move out of Defense, Texas, to Texarkana and then to California. Supervisors were rushed in. They moved the train.

But other loads were slowed.

It happens every day. There rarely is a moment when the Pentagon isn't anguished over 10 or 12 strikes at plant which are the sole producers of some vital ammunition or weapon which are the concern of the day over there.

So, one ought to decide if this war is a war and then get the AFL-CIO's national leadership to set up a council so that it is all explained to strike-happy locals below.

If there is no urgency, what's all the shooting — and shouting — about?

Independence

Oft-repeated is the comment that times are worse today than ever before. But are they?

Even the Vietnam War, which is supposed to be unprecedented — a conflict of a kind in which the United States allegedly has never before participated — isn't really a novelty.

There was the guerrilla warfare which raged in the Philippines from December 1899 until April 1902, when 70,000 American troops were engaged in putting down a Filipino uprising after the islands were ceded to the United States following the Spanish-American War.

This happened thousands of miles from this country — in fact, it was the farthest away from our own territory that any American military force had gone up to that time. Was it all worthwhile?

The analogy between developments with respect to the Philippines and what is occurring now in Vietnam can be vividly recalled by persons who lived in the early days of this century.

Many others have been told by their parents about those agonizing years. The conflict was as unpopular then as the war in Vietnam is today.

ALL SORTS of organizations inside the United States were opposed to America's presence in the Philippines. Indeed, the United States was accused by various groups within its own borders of having yielded to imperialism.

But what has taken place since the guerilla warfare ended in 1902 — the evolution of an independent nation after many years of financial and military support by the United States — is an example of altruism unequalled throughout the world by any other power.

The United States helped the Filipino people in the field of education, agriculture, law, government, industry and public health.

America contributed billions of dollars to development of the Philippines, enabling the people to obtain materials and machinery for transportation and for industrial growth.

It took several decades for the Philippines to become independent, but as the history books show the islands constitute today an example of a successful conversion of a colonial people in Asia into an autonomous democracy.

When the United States was attacked at Pearl Harbor in 1941 by Japan, the Philippines became a key factor in the American strategy for waging the war in the Pacific. The Japanese later occupied principal ports in the islands, but they were driven out by American forces.

The Philippines, as a military base, was an essential element in the ultimate victory by the United States over Japan.

Since the Philippines became an independent country on July 4, 1946, its government has cooperated with the United Nations and the free world, and joined in the formation of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in 1954. Today, Filipino troops are fighting alongside Americans in Vietnam.

America's experience with the Philippines demonstrates that an independent nation capable of self-government cannot be set up overnight. The United States could eventually reconstructs Vietnam, too.

IF THE NORTH and South were reunited, economic aid could be extended that would transform a primitive nation into a modern environment in which the people could enjoy the fruits of true independence.

It may be asked by the critics just why it was the duty of the United States to rescue the Filipinos from internal chaos, and now the Vietnamese from Communist oppression.

The answer is that no international organization has as yet been established which is willing to do the job. Until a formula of that kind becomes effective, Communist imperialism will take over the smaller countries, and will, in due time, spread its power so that American interests will be adversely effected in the Philippines and Australia, as well as in Southeast Asia.

In fact, the ill effects of Communist infiltration in the Philippines have bobbed up again and again ever since World War II.

The Vietnam War is as unpopular inside the United States now as the guerrilla war in the Philippines was at the start of the century.

The American people, however, sought then, as they are doing today, to help other countries to gain autonomy, just as some European countries assisted the American colonies in the 1770s to win their revolution and achieve independence.

But other loads were slowed.

It happens every day. There rarely is a moment when the Pentagon isn't anguished over 10 or 12 strikes at plant which are the sole producers of some vital ammunition or weapon which are the concern of the day over there.

So, one ought to decide if this war is a war and then get the AFL-CIO's national leadership to set up a council so that it is all explained to strike-happy locals below.

If there is no urgency, what's all the shooting — and shouting — about?

Independence

Oft-repeated is the comment that times are worse today than ever before. But are they?

Even the Vietnam War, which is supposed to be unprecedented — a conflict of a kind in which the United States allegedly has never before participated — isn't really a novelty.

There was the guerrilla warfare which raged in the Philippines from December 1899 until April 1902, when 70,000 American troops were engaged in putting down a Filipino uprising after the islands were ceded to the United States following the Spanish-American War.

This happened thousands of miles from this country — in fact, it was the farthest away from our own territory that any American military force had gone up to that time. Was it all worthwhile?

The analogy between developments with respect to the Philippines and what is occurring now in Vietnam can be vividly recalled by persons who lived in the early days of this century.

Many others have been told by their parents about those agonizing years. The conflict was as unpopular then as the war in Vietnam is today.

ALL SORTS of organizations inside the United States were opposed to America's presence in the Philippines. Indeed, the United States was accused by various groups within its own borders of having yielded to imperialism.

But what has taken place since the guerilla warfare ended in 1902 — the evolution of an independent nation after many years of financial and military support by the United States — is an example of altruism unequalled throughout the world by any other power.

The United States helped the Filipino people in the field of education, agriculture, law, government, industry and public health.

America contributed billions of dollars to development of the Philippines, enabling the people to obtain materials and machinery for transportation and for industrial growth.

It took several decades for the Philippines to become independent, but as the history books show the islands constitute today an example of a successful conversion of a colonial people in Asia into an autonomous democracy.

When the United States was attacked at Pearl Harbor in 1941 by Japan, the Philippines became a key factor in the American strategy for waging the war in the Pacific. The Japanese later occupied principal ports in the islands, but they were driven out by American forces.

The Philippines, as a military base, was an essential element in the ultimate victory by the United States over Japan.

Since the Philippines became an independent country on July 4, 1946, its government has cooperated with the United Nations and the free world, and joined in the formation of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in 1954. Today, Filipino troops are fighting alongside Americans in Vietnam.

America's experience with the Philippines demonstrates that an independent nation capable of self-government cannot be set up overnight. The United States could eventually reconstructs Vietnam, too.

IF THE NORTH and South were reunited, economic aid could be extended that would transform a primitive nation into a modern environment in which the people could enjoy the fruits of true independence.

It may be asked by the critics just why it was the duty of the United States to rescue the Filipinos from internal chaos, and now the Vietnamese from Communist oppression.

The answer is that no international organization has as yet been established which is willing to do the job. Until a formula of that kind becomes effective, Communist imperialism will take over the smaller countries, and will, in due time, spread its power so that American interests will be adversely affected in the Philippines and Australia, as well as in Southeast Asia.

In fact, the ill effects of Communist infiltration in the Philippines have bobbed up again and again ever since World War II.

The Vietnam War is as unpopular inside the United States now as the guerrilla war in the Philippines was at the start of the century.

The American people, however, sought then, as they are doing today, to help other countries to gain autonomy, just as some European countries assisted the American colonies in the 1770s to win their revolution and achieve independence.

Area Youth Has Eye Transplant

Gary Waxler Jr., 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Waxler of Hookstown, now has a "'good right eye'" as the result of a corneal transplant performed Jan. 26 at Rochester General Hospital by Dr. Henry C. Thel Jr. of Hopewell Township.

The cornea was one of two bequeathed by a New York woman. The other was used to improve the sight of Mrs. Mary Snyder of Beaver.

Gary is a patient again at Rochester to have a stitch resutured. Dr. Thel said the cornea was working itself up, so the repair work was done immediately.

Mrs. Waxler said Gary developed corneal ulcers in the right eye at the age of five. His vision in the left eye has been perfect, however.

Gary is an excellent student in school. In fact, he hated to miss three weeks' schooling to go to the hospital. The doctor expects Gary will be permitted to return to school in about a week.

Gary will observe his 11th birthday on March 10. To help celebrate the occasion will be his sister, Vicky Lynn, 12, and his brothers, Timmy, 5, and baby David, who will be one year old on Feb. 21.

Highway Officials Draft Route 68 Improvements

Improvements to Route 68, including proposed widening and construction of a new bridge over Beaver Creek, were revealed today by state officials.

Rep. Robert O. Davis of the 13th Legislative District announced the projects, current and tentative, total .$2,020,000.

He said some already have been given the go ahead by the State Department of Highways while others are under consideration by the district engineers at Pittsburgh.

Rep. Davis attended a meeting Wednesday morning at the Greentree office of the State Highway Department and heard William S. Stephens, chief engineer of District 11, enumerate projected plans for Route 68 improvemnts from the Borough Township line to the Ohio State line.

A project scheduled to get underway as soon as the weather breaks is the demolition of the Barclay Hill bridge underpass. A contract was let Jan. 12 to the Conn Welding and Machine Co. for $32,917. There will be some road widening at the area also.

Also approved, with the contract to be let this year, is resurfacing of 2.32 miles of Route 68 from the Barclay underpass through Ohio View and the town of Industry. The estimated cost of the project is $100,000.

Other projects which have been submitted to the State for approval and tentatively slated to begin in three years include replacing the decking on the 135.9 foot Barclay Hill Bridge at an estimated cost of $87,000.

Also included is the construction of a new four - lane bridge on Route 68 over Beaver Creek in Ohioville and Glasgow Boroughs and the widening and resurfacing of 2.28 miles of Route 68 from Midland Borough line to the Ohio State line. The road will be widened to four lanes—48 feet — and slid conditions near the Midland line will be corrected.

The new 50-foot wide bridge will cost approximately $900,000 for construction and 120,000 for right-of-way costs. The estimates on the road widening are $600,000 for construction and $90,000 for right-of-ways.

Another project proposed by the district office is the widening to 24-feet and resurfacing of 1.14 miles of Route 68 from the Borough Township line to Industry Borough along the Ohio River, at an estimated cost of $165,000 for construction and right-of-way costs of $25,000. The drainage system at the area will also be corrected, according to the proposal.

The two projects to be completed in 1967 total $133,000, with new proposals to begin in 1971 if approved set at $1,887,000.

Rep. Davis, in commenting on the tentative plans as submitted, said, "This looks like there are no plans in the forseeable future for relocating Route 68." He remarked favorably on the progress which has been made in getting Route 68 into better shape, and feels the above projects if carried through as planned will correct the major problems on the main traffic artery.

Judge Dismisses Narcotics Charge

A charge of possession of narcotics against an East Liverpool area student at Kent State University was dismissed in Ravenna Municipal Court Wednesday.

Judge Lester Campbell dismissed the charge against John Falone, a junior at Kent, on the recommendation of the Portage County prosecutor's office.

Falone, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Falone of Glenmoor, had indicated other students had entered his apartment while he was away, and some narcotics were reported to have been found during a raid Dec. 14.

Six were arrested in three raids on that date by Kent police, sheriff's deputies and Food and Drug Administration agents.

7 More Ohioans Victims In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Wednesday that seven more Ohioans have died in Vietnam.

Killed in action were: Hospital Corpsman 3.C Larry W. Stull, Fostoria.

Marine Cpl. Russell L. Wilcox, Waynesfiled.

Marine Pfc. Gerald R. Clemson, Geneva.

Marine Pfc. Roger G. Lyons, Amelia.

Marine Pfc. Ronald L. Pelbmeton, Milford.

Marine Pfc. Frederick M. Stemen, son of Mrs. Veryln R. Allison, Hoytville.

Army Pfc. James D. Serena, whose widow, Sharon, lives in Bellaire, died of causes other than hostile action.

staff members who participate in riots.

The House voted 97-32 for the school trimester bill which was defeated at three previous legislative sessions.

Rep. Barry Levey R-39 Butler sponsored the measure which would require at least five hours daily instruction for a minimum of 175 school days a year to qualify for state subsidies.

Levey said the new system would permit up to 50 per cent more enrollment in existing facilities with little additional operating costs.

The bill now goes back to the Senate for consideration of House amendments.

Sen. David S. Holcomb R-6 Dayton is sponsor of the public employe negotiation bill which does not include school teachers and nonteaching school employes. However, a pending measure approved Tuesday by a House Education subcommittee would cover them and in addition require school boards to recognize organizations having the most members.

Senate subcommittee amendments to the pay raises bill would assure that common pleas and probate judges in any county would receive a minimum salary of $14,500 a year. The state would pay $11,000 of the salary with the remainder computed on the basis of county population. The bill sets a maximum of $26,000 annually for these positions.

Under the measure, members of the legislature would get $7,000 annual raises, bringing their pay to $15,000 a year. Supreme Court judges also would be boosted, the chief justice from $24,000 to $32,000 a year and other judges from $24,000 to $30,000. Appellate judges would go from $21,000 to $28,000.

The student riot bill apparently will replace another more stringent measure pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee. It involves only students already enrolled while the bill in judiciary would close the doors of state-supported educational institutions to convicted high school graduates and others seeking to enroll.

In other developments, the Senate passed and sent to the House bills permitting Aid to Dependent Children payments to non-relatives with whom the dependent child lives and authorizing counties to issue revenue bonds for new hospital facilities.

Titanium Names Day Head Of Toronto Plant

John N. Day of Steubenville has been appointed manager of the Toronto plant of Titanium Metals Corp. of America, effective Friday.

The announcement was made at New York by R. S. Nycum, vice president operations.

Day will be responsible for the full operation of the Toronto facility, the world's leading source for titanium metal mill products and the only installation devoted exclusively to this purpose. He succeeds Earl A. Neeb, who has accepted another position.

Day started at Timet's Henderson (Nev.) sponge and ingot plant in 1953.

From 1957 to 1962, he was assistant to the manager, mill operations, in Timet's corporate office in New York City. As production manager of the Toronto plant for the last six years, he has been involved with major production expansion programs.

Day, a native of Cleveland and Bronxville, N.Y., received a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Administration and Engineering from Yale University in 1948.

He was associated with Inland Steel prior to joining Titanium Metals. He is a member of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers; Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, and Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity. He served as an officer in the Army Corps of Engineers.

Day, his wife Charlotte, and children Douglas, Sylvia, and Jeffrey reside at 133 Starkdale Rd., Steubenville. He is on the Board of Directors of the Jefferson County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

bombers dived down on the walls of the former palace grounds trying to clear the way for U.S. Marine assault troops advancing with tear gas.

The American jets entered the battle for the Citadel for the first time Wednesday but used only napalm and rockets on the North Vietnamese positions along the 6-foot-thick stone walls in an effort to minimize damage to historical and architectural treasures inside the compound.

Today, Marine officers said, the pilots were unleashing 250, 500 and 750-pound bombs, but with "discretion."

Remnants of a North Vietnamese regiment clung tenaciously to the palace compound which includes the throne hall, courtyards and shrines begun by the Emperor Gia Long in 1804.

The Red troops were reported in heavily fortified positions along the northeast and southeast walls of the Citadel.

The Communists tried to cut off a battalion of the 3rd South Vietnamese Regiment from other allied troops Wednesday night but failed and suffered 24 killed. "Allied casualties were closely comparable to the enemy's," said a military spokesman.

Over North Vietnam, the heavy monsoon cloud cover lifted enough Wednesday for U.S. Air Force F4 Phantoms and F105 Thunderchiefs to fly 95 missions.

Aerial photographs showed that the American pilots scored two direct hits at the southern end of the five-span Canal de Rapides bridge, a U.S. spokesman said. It was the seventh time U.S. fighter-bombers have attacked the structure, one of the routes into Hanoi for the rail lines from Communist China.

Work crews apparently had repaired the bridge after U.S. raiders last attached it on Jan. 4 during a clearing in the monsoon weather.

Radio Hanoi said a populated area in the capital was attacked with rockets Wednesdy and claimed that North Vietnamese antiaircraft gunners downed six U.S. planes.

Below the demilitarized zone, Communist gunners ringing the Marine base at Khe Sanh poured rockets and mortars into the outpost, but U.S. B52 bombers dropped more big loads on suspected gun positions, troop concentrations and supply points in the area. In two raids Wednesday and one today, the eight-engine bombers dumped perhaps 500,000 pounds of explosives on the Red buildup areas threatening the base.

Remnants of a North Vietnamese regiment clung tenaciously to the palace compound which includes the throne hall, courtyards and shrines begun by the Emperor Gia Long in 1804.

The Red troops were reported in heavily fortified positions along the northeast and southeast walls of the Citadel.

The Communists tried to cut off a battalion of the 3rd South Vietnamese Regiment from other allied troops Wednesday night but failed and suffered 24 killed. "Allied casualties were closely comparable to the enemy's," said a military spokesman.

Over North Vietnam, the heavy monsoon cloud cover lifted enough Wednesday for U.S. Air Force F4 Phantoms and F105 Thunderchiefs to fly 95 missions.

Aerial photographs showed that the American pilots scored two direct hits at the southern end of the five-span Canal de Rapides bridge, a U.S. spokesman said. It was the seventh time U.S. fighter-bombers have attacked the structure, one of the routes into Hanoi for the rail lines from Communist China.

Work crews apparently had repaired the bridge after U.S. raiders last attacked it on Jan. 4 during a clearing in the monsoon weather.

Radio Hanoi said a populated area in the capital was attacked with rockets Wednesdy and claimed that North Vietnamese antiaircraft gunners downed six U.S. planes.

Below the demilitarized zone, Communist gunners ringing the Marine base at Khe Sanh poured rockets and mortars into the outpost, but U.S. B52 bombers dropped more big loads on suspected gun positions, troop concentrations and supply points in the area. In two raids Wednesday and one today, the eight-engine bombers dumped perhaps 500,000 pounds of explosives on the Red buildup areas threatening the base.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do when the glaze begins to wear off chintz after a few washings?

A.—Professional treatment is probably best. But you can also produce a pretty slick gloss yourself by dipping the chintz into a thin solution of clear starch to which a small quantity of wax has been added. Use paraffin or candle wax, and stir it thoroughly into the hot starch solution.

Q.—How can I preserve the bright green color of fresh peas or green beans when cooking them?

A.—By dropping a pinch of baking soda into the water while they are cooking. For the same effect, you might also try cooking them uncovered without salt . . .salting them when they are done.

Q.—How can I concoct a nice, glossy starch?

A.—Try adding a few drops of glycerin to your starch solution, and see if this doesn't produce a nice gloss to your linens. Many other such laundering and ironing tips are in my new household manual.

Q.—How can I remedy a zipper that works stiffly?

A.—You can run the point of a pencil up and down the prongs, and the graphite in the pencil will lubricate the zipper and make it work more easily. Or, use a piece of hard, dry soap as a lubricator. Or, a light rubbing with a birthday candle will restore sliding ease.

Q.—How can I remove ink stains from the wooden surface of a desk?

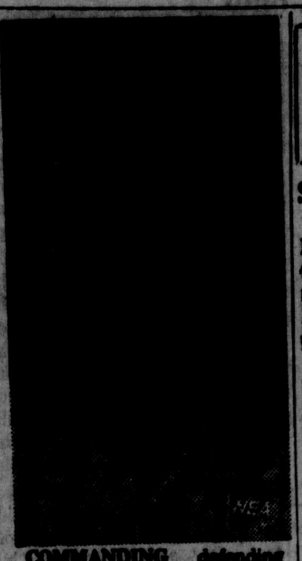

A.—Try applying equal parts of vinegar and linseed oil to the spots. An entire section of my household - hints manual is devoted to the treatment of spots and stains of all kinds.

Q.—How can I remove old varnish from furniture before revarnishing?

A.—By using three tablespoons of washing soda to one quart of water, and rubbing this over the furniture with a rough cloth. One entire section of my new household-hints book is devoted to the care and finishing of furniture.

Q.—What can I do if I have spilled some ink on my carpet?

A.—Cover the spot immediately with fresh milk, then mop up. Cover the spot with cornstarch for a few minutes, run the vacuum cleaner over it, and then rinse the area with mild soap and water.

Load Limits Are Reduced

LISBON — "Reduced Load" signs went up today on certain roads in Perry, Middleton, Elkrun, Yellow Creek and Washington townships.

Columbiana County commissioners Tuesday ordered load limits reduced 50 per cent during the spring thaw period on roads designated by the trustees.

The commissioners also voted to transfer maintenance of County Rd. 442 from the County Highway Department to Unity Township trustees, at their request. The transfer applies from the junction of Turnpike Rd. and Route 170 east to the Ohio - Pennsylvania line. Turnpike Rd. will be designated Township Rd. 1907. The County Highway Department will continue to paint the centerline when needed.

At the request of the prosecuting attorney, the commissioners directed their clerk to obtain bids from Buick dealers for a 1968 Le Sabre to be used by the prosecutor's office.

Carolyn Rizzo of Lisbon was promoted from Welfare Department clerk-typist to welfare aide 1 at $385 a month, effective Friday, on the recommendation of Donald P. Hepp, county welfare director.

Commissioners purchased three secretary chairs at $36.50 each from the Durrance Furniture Co. here for the clerk of courts office.

They announced that bids will be opened Feb. 26 for furnishing and installing new 6 - inch heavy gauge spouting with cast hangers on three buildings at the County Home.

Load Limits Are Reduced

LISBON — "Reduced Load" signs went up today on certain roads in Perry, Middleton, Elkrun, Yellow Creek and Washington townships.

Columbiana County commissioners Tuesday ordered load limits reduced 50 per cent during the spring thaw period on roads designated by the trustees.

The commissioners also voted to transfer maintenance of County Rd. 442 from the County Highway Department to Unity Township trustees, at their request. The transfer applies from the junction of Turnpike Rd. and Route 170 east to the Ohio - Pennsylvania line. Turnpike Rd. will be designated Township Rd. 1807. The County Highway Department will continue to paint the centerline when needed.

At the request of the prosecuting attorney, the commissioners directed their clerk to obtain bids from Buick dealers for a 1968 Le Sabre to be used by the prosecutor's office.

Carolyn Rizzo of Lisbon was promoted from Welfare Department clerk-typist to welfare aide 1 at $305 a month, effective Friday, on the recommendation of Donald P. Hepp, county welfare director.

Commissioners purchased three secretary chairs at $36.50 each from the Dorrance Furniture Co. here for the clerk of courts office.

They announced that bids will be opened Feb. 26 for furnishing and installing new 6 - inch heavy gauge spouting with cast hangers on three buildings at the County Home.

Wage Increases Urged

Firemen Say City Ranks Low In Salary Schedule

A strong recommendation for a salary boost for the city's firemen was presented to Council's negotiating committee Wednesday night by the wage committee of the firemen.

The Council committee, headed by James Lowe, took the proposals under study, but pointed out the city's revenue situation allows few additional expenditures.

The firemen's wage committee, representing Local 24 of the International Association of Firefighters, emphasized the city salary schedule is much lower than the state average.

RECOMMENDED pay increases would boost the fire chief's monthly salary from $557 to $707, the assistant fire chiefs from $492 to $607, and the regular firemen from $467 to $557.

The firemen's committee, headed by James Curry, president of the local, pointed out the city department was ranked 40th in pay in 43 cities in the 15,000 to 35,000 population bracket.

Average pay for firemen in the population bracket is $6,293, the committee said, while the city firemen's annual wage is $5,494. The average for fire chiefs is $8,931, while the city fire chief receives $6,684.

The hourly wage of firemen, based on 244 hours worked a month, is $1.87, the committee said.

Only two other cities in the population group operate as many or more stations than East Liverpool — four. Portsmouth has four, but has 18 more firemen than the city's 31. Steubenville has five, but has 31 more men than the city, it was reported.

East Liverpool has 2.26 men per station, compared with the average of 5.2 for the state, the committee stated.

THE FIREMEN also said there was a need for a broader differential in pay between firemen and officers. The state average is a 19 per cent pay difference between regular firemen and assistant chiefs.

The firemen said the pay increases are vital to retain the present caliber of men on the department and to attract competent men in the future.

"We realize the financial problems," they stated, "but believe it is the duty of the administrators of the city to provide citizens with the best possible fire protection."

Boy Wins Contest

Robert Watson, sixth-grade student at Pughtown School, was named winner of the annual Chester American Legion Post 121 "Gettysburg Address" contest this week.

He is shown receiving a gift certificate from Robert House, post commander.

Mitchell Nixon of Newell was second-place winner and Richard Coe of New Cumberland was third.

Some 124 students in Chester, Newell and Pughtown competed in the event, with the winners of each school taking part in the finals.

The first-place winner received a gift certificate and the runners-up special citations. A bust of Lincoln was presented by the post to Ray Stevens, principal of the school.

John Fred Morris, past commander, was chairman. Robert House, commander, assisted.

Judges were Keith Langdon of East Liverpool High School and Miss Jo Bonessi of Oak Glen High School. About 135 attended.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you printed a letter from a woman who complained about rude sales people. I'm sure the writer has a point, but I wonder how much thought is given to rude customers?

I've been in the retail business for 25 years and I'd like to tell you how it looks from the other side of the counter.

I've seen customers switch price tags and take merchandise from the regular stock and say it was on the sale rack. Last week I saw a woman take a pair of cuticle scissors out of her purse and cut a big hole in the lining of a coat. She then brought the coat to me, said it was damaged and asked for a reduction in the price.

I've seen customers grind out cigarettes in the rugs and steal light bulbs out of the dressing rooms. They come in off the street to use the bathroom and make telephone calls. They ask for free boxes and then want us to mail the packages for them.

I won't go into the trouble I've had with shoplifters or the rubber checks I've been stuck with, the deadbeats who get mad when you telephone or write a letter and ask for your money.

So, Ann, whenever you hear people complain about the treatment they get in a retail store, you can be sure they deserve it. — SAM.

-:-

Dear Sam: Thanks for your letter. You must have had more good customers than bad ones or you could not have stayed in business for 25 years. (P.S. I hope your letter doesn't produce a run on cuticle scissors.)

Ran Too Far

Dear Ann: I'm a 13-year-old girl who needs your advice. There are so many things you write about in your column that I never could talk to Mom about. This is one of those problems.

Last Saturday I went to a downtown movie. I was supposed to meet my two cousins but they weren't at the box office where they were supposed to be so I went in alone.

I sat down near the back and all of a sudden I noticed a man across the aisle staring in my direction. After awhile this man moved next to me I kept my eyes straight ahead and didn't move. When he put his hand on my shoulder I got awfully scared. I didn't know what to do so I jumped out of my seat and ran out of the theater.

Was I a fool to run out? Did I do the right thing? — PETRIFIED.

Dear Pet: You did the wrong thing. You should have gone immediately to the head usher or the manager of the theater, reported the incident and pointed the man out. He could then have been dealt with properly. Instead, you left him free to bother someone else.

Mod Clod

Dear Ann: My girl is very attractive and has excellent taste. Recently she saw a picture in a magazine and decided she was going to look exotic — like the model in the picture.

She plucked out all her eyebrows and penciled in some new ones, about an inch higher than her own. I think her pencilled eyebrows are cheap and unnatural. Also, she goes around looking surprised all the time. Should I tell her how I feel? — JAKE.

-:-

Dear Jake: Without belaboring the point, tell her you prefer her own eyebrows to the ones she bought at the dime store and ask her if she will give the real ones another chance.

Ann Lander will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chester Sets 'Heart Fund' Solicitation

Plans have been completed for the Heart Fund solicitation in Chester.

Mrs. Alberta Stravinsky, chairman of the drive the last five years, said the canvass will begin officially Sunday and continue through Feb. 25.

Captains include: Mrs. Alice Decapio, Mrs. Mary John, Mrs. Mary Ann Wright, Mrs. Mary Schladen, Mrs. Jean Cunningham, Mrs. Erma Myers, Mrs. Ernest Ward, Mrs. Linda Jordan and Mrs. Catherine Geer.

The Grant District Burial Group will hold a "roadblock" on Carolina Ave. in front of the City Hall one day. Mrs. Stravinsky said it is hoped to surpass the 1967 total of $736.

McKinnon Will Attend Cincinnati Seminar

J. G. McKinnon of Lisbon St., president of Local 50 of the United Federation of Postal Clerks, will attend a two-day, three-state union seminar at Cincinnati this weekend.

McKinnon said proper procedures for postal - employe contract negotiations will be discussed.

He said the seminar is being held in preparation for negotiations scheduled to open with postal officials here and in more than 400 other Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky communities on April 1.

Speakers will include Professors Robert Linnon and Harry Blaine from the Labor Education and Research Service of Ohio State University; Eugene C. Hagburg, chief, employe management branch, Cincinnati Regional Office, Postal Department; national UFPC Executive Vice President Don E. Dunn, of Washington, D.C., and national UFPC Vice President James P. Williams of Indianapolis, Cincinnati region.

Arkansas has more mineral springs than any other U. S. state.

New Officers Begin Duties

New officers assumed their duties when the Liverpool Township East fire department met Tuesday night at the hall.

They are: Charles Adams, president; Guy Looman, vice president; John Laitsch, secretary; Everett Vernaccini, treasurer, Robert Parker, assistant chief; William Smith, captain, and Charles Adams, Charles Moore and Looman, lieutenants.

The group has changed the monthly meetings to the second Tuesday because of a state fire school members are attending. The school will continue about nine more weeks.

The purchase of a public address system for the No. 2 pumper truck, was discussed.

Membership applications were received from two.

The next meeting will be March 12 at 7:30 p. m. in the hall.

Spec. 4 Virgil Huff, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Huff of 503 Jefferson St., Newell, phoned his parents Tuesday night from Singapore, where he was spending a rest leave from Vietnam duty.

He is stationed at Can Tho with a personnel advisory team. He was scheduled to return Wednesday after the week's leave. Huff, a 1965 graduate of Oak Glen High School, entered the service in 1966. He is due for a 30-day visit home in May.

Oak Glen's PTA To Pick Officers At April Meeting

Plans were made for the election and installation of officers on April 9 when the Oak Glen Parent - Teacher Association met Tuesday night in the multipurpose room of the school.

Mrs. Patricia Staley, first vice president, appointed the following nominating committee: Mrs. Irene Ford, Mrs. Ruth Abrams and Kenneth Evans.

Each group will report at the April meeting.

A life membership pin was presented Mrs. Charles Taylor of Chester in honor of Founders Day and a donation of $5 was received for the Founders Day offering.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Abrams, who used a Valentine motif in the decorations.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Jean Ford.

Further Discussion Due On Size Of Signs

Final wording of the outdoor signs phase of the zoning ordinance may be completed when the City Planning Commission meets March 11.

The commission, headed by George Steele, met Tuesday night to again discuss sign changes.

Recommendations, if any are forthcoming will have to submitted to City Council for action.

Mayor George Willshaw said several items dealing with sign are being considered, including size limitations of outdoor advertising and miscellaneous signs, not including public safety and information signs.

To avoid detection, spider crabs pile seaweed and small sea creatures on their backs.

Man Sentenced To Reformatory In Arson, Theft

LISBON — David Edward Weekley, 18, of East Rochester RD 3 pleaded guilty to arson and two counts of auto theft Wednesday in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sentenced him to the Ohio State Reformatory from 2 to 20 years for arson and 1 to 20 years on each count of theft, but said the sentences may be served concurrently.

The January grand jury indicted Weekley for setting fire to a dwelling of Harold and Wilbur Davis and stealing a car owned by Guy Anderson and one owned by James Kellogg. All the offenses occurred last February.

Also appearing before Judge Buzzard for arraignment was Roy W. Crist, 61, of Columbiana RD 2, charged with grand larceny in the theft of copper coils Oct. 5 from Quaker City Castings at Salem.

Crist, physically disabled temporarily, pleaded guilty to petty larceny and requested probation. The plea was accepted. Judge Buzzard deferred sentencing to enable Crist to undergo further treatment.

Detour Signs Placed During Improvement

LISBON — Through traffic on U.S. Route 30 is being detoured at Hanoverton and the Route 172 junction west of Lisbon for the Beacon Light Hill improvement five miles west of here.

Detour signs were placed Tuesday. The detour route is Route 172 between Route 30 and New Garden and Route 9 between New Garden and Hanoverton.

This adds about five miles to the distance between Hanoverton and the 30-172 junction.

Further Discussion Due On Size Of Signs

Final wording of the outdoor signs phase of the zoning ordinance may be completed when the City Planning Commission meets March 11.

The commission, headed by George Steele, met Tuesday night to again discuss sign changes.

Recommendations, if any are forthcoming will have to submitted to City Council for action.

Mayor George Willshaw said several items dealing with sign are being considered, including size limitations of outdoor advertising and miscellaneous signs, not including public safety and information signs.

Man Sentenced To Reformatory In Arson, Theft

LISBON — David Edward Weekley, 18, of East Rochester RD 3 pleaded guilty to arson and two counts of auto theft Wednesday in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sentenced him to the Ohio State Reformatory from 2 to 20 years for arson and 1 to 20 years on each count of theft, but said the sentences may be served concurrently.

The January grand jury indicted Weekley for setting fire to a dwelling of Harold and Wilbur Davis and stealing a car owned by Guy Anderson and one owned by James Kellogg. All the offenses occurred last February.

Also appearing before Judge Buzzard for arraignment was Roy W. Crist, 61, of Columbiana RD 2, charged with grand larceny in the theft of copper coils Oct. 5 from Quaker City Castings at Salem.

Crist, physically disabled temporarily, pleaded guilty to petty larceny and requested probation. The plea was accepted. Judge Buzzard deferred sentencing to enable Crist to undergo further treatment.

Detour Signs Placed During Improvement

LISBON — Through traffic on U.S. Route 30 is being detoured at Hanoverton and the Route 172 junction west of Lisbon for the Beacon Light Hill improvement five miles west of here.

Detour signs were placed Tuesday. The detour route is Route 172 between Route 30 and New Garden and Route 9 between New Garden and Hanoverton.

This adds about five miles to the distance between Hanoverton and the 30-172 junction.

With the purchase of a Hoover Washer - -
You Get 20 BOXES OF TIDE FREE

HERE ARE 9 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY A HOOVER SPIN DRYING WASHER

TIDE PORTABLE — ROLLS ON LARGE CASTERS
Large easy rolling casters let the HOOVER move about with complete ease. Store it in one place...use it in another.

WITH 1/3 CUP OF DETERGENT — SAVES $$ ON DETERGENT
The washing action is so efficient, it needs less detergent than the agitator or tumbler-type washer. It has a SUDS-SAVER, too!

WASHES A FAIRLY SIZE LOAD — FAMILY-SIZE LOADS
2 Double Sheets plus pillow cases, or 36 diapers, or 12 men's shirts. Washes even the most delicate things.

IN 4 MINUTES — WASHES FAST
The HOOVER washes a full load of laundry in four minutes or less, in a gleaming lifetime stainless steel washtub.

SO THOROUGHLY YOU'LL HARDLY BELIEVE IT — TURBO-ACTION AGITATION
The unique HOOVER energy disk, located on the back of the washer tub, actually surges water through the clothes. This remarkable wash action gets clothes really clean.

RINSES AND SPINS DRY IN 2 MINUTES — DRIES IN SECONDS
The clothes are spun at the amazing speed of 2,000 RPM, this enables the washer to extract soap or detergents that can't be rinsed out. Laundry comes out really damp-dry.

SAVES UP TO 100 GALLONS OF WATER — 100 GALLONS — SAVES $$ ON WATER
Uses only 1/3 the amount of water that most automatics use. Saves up to 100 gallons every 3 loads.

NEEDS NO PLUMBING — NO PLUMBING NECESSARY
Needs no plumbing, needs no installation. Just roll the HOOVER to any sink, slip on the hose and start washing. Pump empties washer automatically.

EASY TO SERVICE — No gears or complicated control panels. Truly a do-it-yourself washer. Belt replacement is a breeze...less need for costly service.

Students Plan Two Concerts At Wellsville

Musicians from Wellsville High School will appear in concerts Feb. 25 and March 3 at the First Christian Church in Wellsville under sponsorship of the Young Artists Recital Committee.

Seniors will offer vocal, organ, violin and other instrumental selections, with underclass soloists and groups appearing in support.

Members of the committee said each program "will be different" and will last approximately an hour and a half. A brief informal reception will follow each.

There will be no admission charge, but a small cash donation will be accepted at the door to defray expenses.

In explaining the objectives of the two concerts, the sponsors pointed out:

"Wellsville High School is fortunate in having a number of highly-talented young people. However, the community has little or no opportunity to hear them in performance under optimum conditions. Nor have these young artists had opportunities to appear in recital before discriminating audiences of their own townspeople and musiclovers from neighboring communities."

Proceedings Of The Court

Common Pleas

DIVORCES ASKED

Margaret A. Mick vs. Lee E. Mick, Hess Rd., East Liverpool; extreme cruelty.

NEW CASES

Peters Savings & Loan Co., East Liverpool, vs. Paul and Carolyn Reimer, Birch Rd., East Liverpool RD 1; action for $10,948 claimed due on promissory note.

Actress 'Fair' After Overdose Of Sleeping Pills

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Katy Jurado, 40, former wife of actor Ernest Borgnine and two-time Academy Award nominee, was in fair condition today at the University of California at Los Angeles Medical Center after reportedly swallowing an overdose of sleeping pills.

Miss Jurado, best known for her supporting role in "High Noon," was rushed to the center by police who entered her Los Angeles apartment Wednesday night after being alerted by Miss Jurado's agent, Ron Meyer.

Meyer told police Miss Jurado had called him and said: "I have taken 67 sleeping pills and I am going to sleep. There are $1,500 worth of furs in my closet which you can give to my kids."

Miss Jurado has two children —Victor Hugo, 23, and Sandra, 21.

The fiery Mexican actress was married first to actor-writer Victor Valezquez. It ended in divorce in 1953. Six years later she married Borgnine but the stormy marriage also ended in divorce, in 1963.

Showdown Seen Near In Memphis Garbage Strike

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A modest late winter snow was both a blessing and a nightmare today as a showdown approached in the Memphis garbage strike.

Mayor Henry Loeb and 1,300 striking sanitation workers faced a confrontation as neither side gave sign of yielding in an angry four-day-old dispute.

The threat of a showdown mounted after Loeb declared Wednesday that if work was not resumed today, "We will immediately begin replacing those people who have chosen to abandon their jobs and their rights."

Union leaders have said they would not allow the garbage to be picked up by strike breakers.

Police in every area were alerted to stand by for trouble. And National Guard officials conferred with Loeb.

Snow, which began falling Wednesday night, was welcomed in hopes that it would cover the mounting heaps of rubbish and keep down the stench.

But the prospect of icy streets brought compounded trouble since sanitation crews double as cinder spreaders during bad weather.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a suggestion that may help those ladies who want to give their living rooms a pick-up but haven't the money for new slip covers.

The cover on our sofa was in pretty bad shape and I couldn't replace it at that time.

The arms and both sides of the seat cushions were worn and faded (as they get the most wear) but the material on the back of the sofa was in perfect condition. Here's what I did:

I used the material on the back of the sofa to replace the tops of the worn cushions. And there was still enough cloth left to put a strip on top of each arm between the piping.

I replaced the material I had used from the back with some sheeting so the cover would retain its shape.

The result was a nice, fresh-looking sofa cover that even the children thought was new and there was no strain at all on our budget.

MRS. D.E.B.

DEAR FOLKS: I have done this myself. No one but you will ever know the difference since the sofa is pushed up against a wall.

I suggest that as soon as you remove the back, use the removed piece for a pattern and replace it FIRST.

Then when you remove the worn parts of the arms and cushions, press them and use them for patterns! They will fit perfectly.

I have even removed the lining from under the cushions and replaced it with an old sheet. The material there is like new and this never shows.

Best of all, next time you make slipcovers buy extra material and cut extra pieces for the arms and cushions at the same time you are making your cover. Place these under the slipcover on the seat of the sofa and they will be ready for replacement when needed with no effort on your part.

As much as slipcovers cost today, this sure saves lots of money.

HELOISE.

P.S. And did you know if you had them professionally made, that they would cut these extra pieces for you at practically the cost of the material itself?

DEAR HELOISE: I go to the laundromat each week and find that if I keep a small stock of dimes and quarters in an extra coin purse it saves that eternal looking for change which we often can't find.

I keep this purse of change with my laundry supplies.

MARION FLETCHER.

DEAR HELOISE: For the "late" or "late-late" readers who wear glasses in bed . . .

Tape a spectacle case to the headboard or side rail of your bed with cellophane tape. Then when you are ready to fall asleep, just slip your glasses into the holder.

Saves getting up to put them away — or, if you keep them on a bedside table, keeps them from being knocked off as you reach for that alarm!

N.D.C.

-:-

I tacked mine on the side of my bedside table right up under the "eave" and it doesn't even show . . . Great.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: When my little boy won't eat, I give him some plastic measuring spoons at the table. While he is absorbed with putting food in and out of them, some food eventually gets into his mouth!

DELORES BAILEY.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for people who have a leather dashboard in their automobile that has faded from the sun.

I use boot cream, which can be bought in almost any color, and when it is applied correctly it makes the dash look almost like new.

Just use according to directions on the bottle.

MR. KEITH SHONKWILER.

DEAR HELOISE: When you want to stand a plate on a shelf and there is no groove to hold it up . . . either tape, thumb tack or glue a popsickle stick to th shelf and your plate will stand up very easily and safely.

One could varnish or paint the stick to make it look nicer on the shelf.

The DOCTOR Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Q. — I take aspirin every day to keep going. What harmful effects could it have on me?

A — The effects would depend on the amount taken and you individual tolerance to the drug. An overdose could cause nausea, heartburn, bleeding from the stomach or intestines, dizziness, sweating, water nasal discharge or mental confusion. Prolonged overdosage could cause peptic ulcers or anemia. For most adults, the effective dose is one five-grain tablet—not two as commonly believed.

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—I was told to take bicarbonate of soda with my aspirin but now my friends say this is harmful. I have had a peptic ulcer. What do you think?

A — Both sodium bicarbent and magnesium carbonate have been used to neutralize the acidity of aspirin, which is acetyl salicylic acid. This is done to reduce stomach irritation. There is no harm in such a combination, but its effectiveness is still a matter of controversy.

The best way to reduce gastric distress caused by aspirin is to take it after a meal or between meals with a full glass of milk. Anyone who has had a peptic ulcer should take aspirin very sparingly.

Q — Is it harmful to use aspirin that smells like vinegar when you open the bottle?

A—When aspirin has been kept on the shelf for a long time either at home or in the store it breaks down into acetic and salicylic acids. It is the acetic acid that smells like vinegar. Since salicylic acid is much more irritating to your mucous membranes than aspirin, such tablets should be discarded.

Q—When I take aspirin my right eye swells up and I get nauseated. Is there any substitue I can take without a prescription?

A — There are many non-addicting pain killers that do not contain aspirin, but none that are safe to use without medical supervision.

Q—Where can I get the sun screen containing napthaquinone with dihydoxyacetone mentioned in one of your columns?

A—This product, developed by Dr. Ramon M. Fusaro and his co-workers at the University of Minnesota, has not been produced commercially but another new product for this purpose, oxybenzone with dioxybenzone (Solbar), is available.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Eugene McCarthy has given permission for his name to be entered in the Ohio Democratic presidential primary in at least seven districts, a campaign worker said Wednesday.

Jeffrey Gibson, co-chairman of the Franklin County chapter of Ohio Democrats for McCarthy, said plans are to place his name in these districts:

1st and 2nd (Cincinnati; 3rd (which includes parts of Montgomery County); 12th (eastern Franklin, Morrow and Delaware counties); 13th (Lorain, Medina and part of Cuyahoga); 22nd (Cleveland), and 24th (Clinton, Butler and Warren counties and parts of Hamilton and Montgomery counties).

The Cheyenne Indians were famous for their sacred "medicine arrows."

Schedules Announced For Winter Fair Event

The schedules of visitations for a "Winter Fair" featuring discussions of community services has been announced by the planning committee for the Feb. 26-March 1 project.

Robert Harris, manager of the Social Security office, is in charge of the event which will feature town hall meetings in five communities.

Representatives of governmental and social service agencies are scheduled to serve on the panels.

THE GROUPS and captains are:

Group One — County Welfare Director Donald Hepp and representatives of the Soldiers and Sailors Relief, Social Security, Employment Service Claims, Juvenile Court and Catholic Service Bureau.

Group Two — Ronald Cline of the Ohio Employment Service and representatives of the Community Action Committee, Sheltered Workshop Cooperative Extension Service and Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Group Three — Mrs. Ruth Rinehart of the Home Health Agency and representatives of the County Health Department, Mental Health Clinic, Civil Defense and County Historical Society.

Group Four — Glenn Sprewls and representatives of the Internal Revenue Service, post office, sheriff, treasurer and prosecutor.

Group Five — County Commissioner Charles Gause and trustees, recorder, auditor, engineer and Regional Planning Commission.

THE SCHEDULE for the groups the first day Feb. 26 is Group One at East Liverpool. Group Two at Salem, Group Three at East Palestine, Group Four at Columbiana and Group Five at Lisbon.

The rest of the week the groups will rotate among the communities, Harris explained.

Each panel member will present a five - minute talk. A question-and-answer period will follow.

Mayors of each community are scheduled to serve as moderators.

Mishaps Listed By Police Here

Three cars were damaged here Wednesday night, including one which left the scene of a mishap.

The hit - skip occurred between 6:30 and 9:30 and involved a parked auto owned by James S. Poynter of 226 Haywood St.

Poynter told police he parked about 6:30 at the intersection of Mulberry St. and Locust Alley and about 9:30 found some one had hit his 1965 sedan in the left rear fender.

Police surmised the other auto received one or possibly two broken headlights in view of debris strewn at the scene.

Two autos collided at E. 5th St., about 30 feet east of Crook Alley, Wednesday night.

Arnold F. Kozlowski, 42, of 1600 Forrest Dr., Barberton, told police he pulled his 1963 station wagon from a parking space on E. 5th and struck a 1957 sedan being operated by Robert Harold Cook, 20, of 969 Ohio Ave.

Neither driver was cited.

Nearly $24 million was spent last year on research and development, with the federal government supplying approximately 63 per cent of the total and the remainder coming primarily from private industry.

Ohio Man Held In Moundsville For Armed Theft

MOUNDSVILLE, W.Va. (AP) — Police are holding an Ohio man on armed robbery charges in the Wednesday holdup of the Citizens Savings and Loan Association here.

The suspect is Thomas Holtsclaw, 46, of Zanesville, a former resident of New Martinsville, Wetzel County.

Police said he was captured in a roadblock while trying to escape into Ohio in a taxi. Officers said $1,267 in stolen money was recovered.

Mrs. Evelyn Garrett, a teller in the loan office, said the bandit handed her a note which read: "Everybody behave and give me the money. I just want to get to Cuba."

Mrs. Garrett and two other employes handed over the money in their cash drawers, police said, before the robber herded them into a back room and tied them up.

The bank employes managed to untie themselves and call police minutes after the robber fled.

Potters Host Barberton, Martins Ferry This Weekend

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The trade between the White Sox and the Senators may be a break for East Liverpool's Bernie Allen.

The Nats sent Tim Cullen, one of their second-base candidates, to Chicago. Now Allen's main challenger for the position is Frank Coggins.

HAROLD ALLEN, former basketball star (along with his brothers Richie and Ron) under Butler Hennon at Wampum, is averaging over 30 points a game for the Washington Senators basketball team.

LAS VEGAS tabs the Cardinals as a 2-1 choice to repeat as National League champions. Giants are 3-1, Pirates 7-2, Reds 5-1, Phillies and Braves 7-1, Cubs 8-1, Dodgers 15-1, Astros 60-1 and Mets 100-1. In the American League the Twins and Orioles are co-favorites at 7-2, the White Sox are 5-1, the Red Sox 7-1, Angels 10-1, Indians 15-1, Yankees 30-1, Senators 60-1 and Athletics 100-1.

GENE MAUCH, manager of the Phillies, picks the Cincinnati Reds to win the National League pennant. The Reds are having trouble signing Tony Perez and Lee May.

PIRATE FARMHAND Asa Small, 26, who pitched for Columbus last season, died in a fire at his home in Phillips, Maine, on Tuesday.

FORMER WEST VIRGINIA U. and Pittsburgh Ren cager Bucky Bolyard is coach of the California (Pa.) High School team, which, along with Monaca, was the first to clinch a berth in the WPIAL Tournament. California won section 14-B.

JEFF LAKE, former Midland basketball ace, is playing this season at San Jacinto JC in Texas. Lake is averaging 17 points a game, third best on the team, and is renowned for his quick hands on defense as the point man on the San Jacinto 1-3-1 zone.

EAST LIVERPOOL continues to be rated 12th in the UPI state basketball rankings. Brookfield is ranked 19th.

FIVE BROTHERS form the starting basketball team at Central Linn High in Halsey, Oregon, and not one is a senior. There is a junior, a sophomore, and 15-year-old triplets, who are freshmen.

GEORGE ZEPERNICK of Leetonia scored seven points Tuesday night as Westminster routed Pitt 96-72.

Visitors Present Different Styles

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Two tough opponents with different styles come to the Memorial Auditorium this weekend to face the East Liverpool Potters.

On Friday Barberton, a good defensive team, brings a 10-6 record to town. On Saturday Martins Ferry, a fine offensive aggregation, comes in with a 12-4 mark. "This could be our most interesting week of basketball," says Potter coach Clint McConnell.

Barberton is yielding only 52.5 points a game. The Magics are scoring only 54.5, but are adept at winning close contests. Martins Ferry is scoring at an 87.6 a game clip, but has yielded 71.4 points a contest. East Liverpool is scoring 61.3 a game and giving up 44.8.

Barberton, playing one of the toughest schedules of any Potter opponent, has won six games by seven points or less and dropped two contests by five points or less. The Magics have beaten Springfield Twp. 50 - 48, Warren Harding 71-64, Akron St. Vincent 44-36, Akron Hoban 54-51, Wadsworth 53-49, Canton Catholic 63-49, Alliance 64-41, Akron St. Vincent again 44-36, Akron Garfield 60-49 and Akron Kenmore 62-46. Losses came to Akron East 52-47, Akron Buchtel 52-50, Canton Lehman 66-47, Canton Lincoln 67-54, Cuyahoga Falls 51-36 and Akron Firestone 83-68. East Liverpool beat Harding 66-54 and Alliance 69-48.

Barberton coach Bob Dutton uses the "Tennessee Trap" 1-3-1 zone defense with double teaming on the ball at certain times. Probable starters will be 6-3 Elwood Palmer at center, 6-0 Mike Valencheck and 6-3 Al Garrand at guard. Boyd and Valnecheck enour and 6-1 Ron Boyd at guards. Robert Lewis, a 5-10 sophomore, sees lots of action at guard. Boyd and Valnecheck are seniors, the others juniors. A strong bench includes 6-6 senior John Bosnak and 6-3 sophomore Jerry Uhryk. Valencheck is the leading scorer with a 13.1 average.

Martins Ferry has all five starters averaging in double figures, led by Dave Reasbeck, brother of former Bellaire St. John's and Ohio State star Dick Reasbeck. The younger Reasbeck is averaging 23.6, while Floyd Malatesta is at 14.4, Sam Twardorski at 12.4, Paul Pettit at 10.8 and Clarence Hill at 10.2. Twardoski is a sophomore, the others seniors, but all started at the end of the year last year. Pettit is 6-4, Reasbeck 6-3, Twardosky 6-2 and the others 6-0. Jim Smith, 5-7 senior, and Rick Weiskircher, 5-11 junior, are the top subs, both averaging about seven points a game.

Purple Rider coach Roger Best, in his third year, uses a 1-3-1 offense. Martins Ferry and Barberton both like to press. McConnell terms Martins Ferry as the best shooting team on the Potters' schedule, and says that Reasbeck is a better player than the high-scoring Allen Hornyak of Bellaire St. John's. Reasbeck tied the school record with a 51-point outburst against Bridgeport earlier in the year.

The Riders won that game 127-99 and have gone over 100 against Bellaire in a 117-68 win and Shadyside in a 123-64 win. Other winners were over St. Clairsville 86-56 and 86-77, Steubenville Central 59-41 at the Steubenville Arena, Akron North 77-55, Bellaire St. John's 82-73, Wheeling 82-75, Bridgeport 90-87, Wintersville 78-61 and Bellaire 98-57. Losses were to Wheeling Central 75-73 and 75-69, Steubenville 83-65 and Wheeling 96-87, the latter Tuesday night at Wheeling. East Liverpool beat St. John's 68-54, Steubenville 52-47 and Steubenville Central 64-63.

McConnell notes that the Purple Riders have an excellent fast break. He says that Mike McVay, Rick Steffen and Bill Montgomery will try to hold down Reasbeck (not all at the same time). Jerry and Bruce Christian, Earl Diddle and Mitchell Jones will be the other starters.

Last year East Liverpool beat Martins Ferry 74-56 at Martins Ferry. Last fall the Potters whipped the Riders 46-0 in football, so the downriver lads have some incentive to win.

Unbeaten Blackbirds Want NIT

By The Associated Press

The pressure is getting heavy for Long Island University's unbeaten Blackbirds.

Coach Roy Rubin and his players are anxious to get a chance to duplicate the fabulous performance of Southern Illinois University last season.

The Salukis were the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' small college basketball ratings and then went on to win the National Invitation Tournament from a field of major college powers.

The Blackbirds would like to get into the NIT at the new Madison Square Garden. They know the invitation committee won't be able to ignore them if they wind up undefeated.

They squeezed by two more teams last week for a 16-0 record and maintained their strong grip on first place in the poll, based on games through last Saturday.

The Blackbirds had it tough topping Rider 55-52 and Hofstra 72-65.

Norfolk State, another all-winning team, lost to Delaware State 129-103 but then was awarded the game by forfeit because Delaware State used an ineligible player. So Norfolk State now has a 17-0 record. Still, the team dropped from seventh to ninth place in the poll because of the first report.

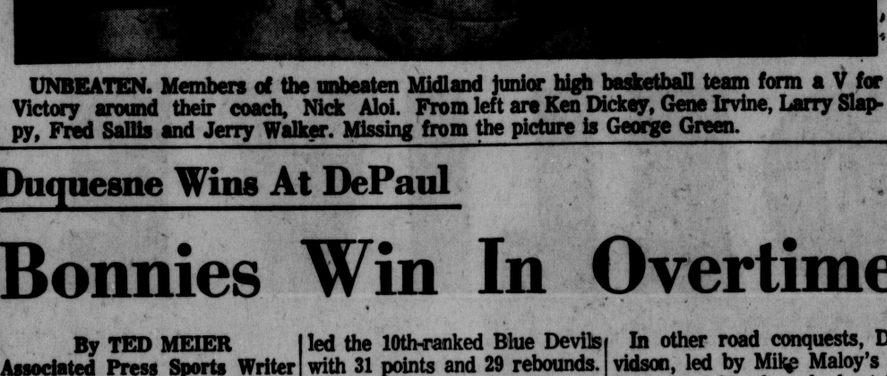

Kentucky Wesleyan, third a week ago, took over the runner-up spot from Evansville by beating the Aces 87-76 in overtime.

LIU received 11 of the 15 first-place votes and 139 points in the balloting. Kentucky Wesleyan, 14-3, got one first placer and 111 points. Evansville, 16-3, gathered 100 points.

The other members of the Top Ten, in order, were: Southwest Missouri State, McNeese State, Trinity, Texas., Southwestern Louisiana, Pan American, Norfolk State and Guilford.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points through games of Feb. 10 on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1.	Long Island U. (11)	139
2.	Ky. Wesleyan (1)	111
3.	Evansville	100
4.	SW Missouri St.	77
5.	McNeese State (1)	62
6.	Trinity, Tex.	61
7.	SW Louisiana	40
8.	Pan American (1)	36
9.	Norfolk State	30
10.	Guilford	23

Duquesne Wins At DePaul

Bonnies Win In Overtime

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You'd think the Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, the nation's fourth-ranking team in college basketball, would be beaten if they blew an 11-point lead and lost big Bob Lanier on personal fouls. Not so.

The unbeaten Bonnies demonstrated their all-around balance with an 81-71 overtime victory over Seton Hall on the road at South Orange, N.J., Wednesday night. It was their 20th straight, 18 this season and a carryover of two from last year.

Lanier, star 6-foot-11 soph, fouled out with three minutes left in regulation time after scoring 21 points.

The Bonnies called time out and as Coach Larry Weise said later, "I just told the boys to look at the scoreboard." The Bonnies were ahead by only four points 59-55.

Billy Kalbaugh and Johnny Hayes rose to the occasion as the Bonnies pulled the game out. Kalbaugh scored the last eight St. Bonaventure points in regulation time which ended 63-63 and Hayes tallied seven of the first 10 Bonnies points in the overtime.

Hayes took over in the extra period after a three-point play by Bill Butler had put the Bonnies ahead for good in the first 20 seconds of the overtime.

"They don't need me, they can make it on their own," Lanier said afterwards.

In contrast to the Bonnies, the Duke Blue Devils, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, enjoyed a 105-65 home court romp against Wake Forest. Big Mike Lewis led the 10th-ranked Blue Devils with 31 points and 29 rebounds.

It was the eighth straight defeat for Wake Forest and the Deacons' 10th loss in a row on the road. Duke's record now is 15-3.

Bowling Green, playing at home, beat Toledo 85-78 and took over first place in the Mid-American Conference. Walt Piatkowski led the Falcons with 31 points, including the basket that put Bowling Green ahead for good at 49-47 early in the second half. Steve Mix led Toledo with 29.

Ron Guziak, held to just one basket in the first half, broke loose for 22 in the second to lead Duquesne to a 79-69 triumph over DePaul in Chicago.

In other road conquests, Davidson, led by Mike Maloy's 19 points and 23 rebounds, beat St. Joseph's, Pa., 66-60 in Philadelphia's Palestra and Western Michigan whipped the Detroit Titans 94-82.

Roger Strong's 21 points led George Washington to an upset 70-66 victory over Fordham at Arlington, Va., and Syracuse snapped a seven-game losing streak with an 83-66 home court conquest of Cornell.

Providence, also playing at home, beat Canisius 83-72 and Holy Cross edged Massachusetts 70-69 at Amherst as Keith Hocjstein scored all of his 20 points in the second half.

Denver also won at home beating the Air Force 86-71.

5 Cincinnati Reds Return Signed Pacts

CINCINNATI (AP) — Five Cincinnati Reds, including handyman-infielder Bob Johnson who hit .348 for the New York Mets last year, returned signed contracts today, officials said.

Falcons Take MAC Lead; Denison On Top In OC

By The Associated Press

Bowling Green leads the Mid-American Conference basketball race today, thanks to the high goals set by Coach Bill Fitch.

"We had set our goals to be as good as Toledo," Fitch said of Bowling Green's arch rival in the tough conference.

Fitch's Falcons were more than just "as good" Wednesday night as they trimmed the Rockets 85-78 and took over undisputed first place in the seven-team league. The teams were deadlocked at 6-2 before the game at Bowling Green.

Bowling Green now has the inside track for the championship, its first since the 1963-63 season. Toledo, defending champion, dropped to third place at 6-3. Marshall, idle Wednesday night, is in second place with a 7-3 record.

There's also a new leader today in the mad scramble for the Ohio Conference crown. Denison beat Marietta 80-62 to take over first place from Otterbein, upset by Wittenberg 76-69.

Denison is 9-2, but Otterbein and Baldwin-Wallace are right behind at 8-2. Two other teams —Kenyon and Wooster—are 7-2. And Wittenberg is still a contender with a 7-3 slate.

In the MAC showdown, Bowling Green's 6-8 Walt Piatkowski both were outstanding. Piatkowski dumped in 31 points and grabbed 10 rebounds. Mix, who fouled out with two minutes remaining, scored 20 points and got 12 rebounds.

Fitch said the turning point came midway in the second half "when we got our fast break in gear."

The teams battled on even terms in the first half, ending in a 37-37 tie. Bowling Green went ahead for good, 49-47 on a basket by Piatkowski, and the Falcons steadily pulled away.

In another MAC game, Miami downed Kent State 86-70 behind 32 points from Phil Snow and 22 from Fred Foster. Doug Grayson and Bruce Burden had 17 points each for Kent.

Denison's five starters, led by Charlie Claggett with 22 points, all scored in double figures against Marietta. But the Pioneers' Tom Wolter took scoring honors with 32 points.

Sophomore Tyrone Curry, playing only his fourth game of the season, led Wittenberg past Otterbein as the Tigers gained their fourth straight victory. Curry, injured the first 17 games, scored 18 points.

In other Ohio Conference games, Ira Porterfield scored 34 points as Capital belted Ohio Wesleyan 103-88, and All Wellington's field goal in the last two seconds of an overtime gave Oberlin a 58-56 decision over Mount Union.

Elsewhere, twins Jim and Jerry Carder scored 21 points each to lead Findlay over Central State 75-66.

Canada's Nancy Greene Wins Giant Slalom Race

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — U.S. girl skiers and men speed skaters, who produced some unexpected showings the past two days, failed to pull out any surprises today as Canada's Nancy Greene and Fred Anton Maier of Norway posted smashing victories in the Winter Olympics.

Miss Greene streaked down the giant slalom course in one minute, 51.97 seconds for a 2.64-second triumph in the last women's Alpine ski race, and Maier shattered his own world record in winning the men's 5,000-meter speed skating race in seven minutes, 22.4 seconds.

The U.S. entries finished far down the lists in both races.

It was just two days ago that a quartet of American girls took command, if just briefly, of the women's special slalom only to have three of the girls disqualified for missing gates in the first heat and the fourth fall in the second heat.

Then in the men's 500-meter speed skating race Wednesday, Terry McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., revived the memory of his great 1964 victory by surprisingly winning another medal, this one a silver.

Miss Green's victory in the giant slalom spoiled any chances for a girl to win two gold medals in skiing as France's Jean-Claude Killy has done in the men's race.

Marielle Goitschel of France, who won the special slalom, had been given a chance to make it a double, especially by Miss Greene.

The Canadian girl was the ninth down the 1,610-meter course at nearby Chamrousse, and when her brilliant time was announced just about everyone conceded her Canada's first gold medal of the Winter Games.

"Wait for Marielle, wait for Marielle," she repeated. "She's good."

The French girl wasn't good enough, however, and when her time of 1:56.09 was announced, tears started rolling down Nancy's face. Then a big smile broke through the tears as everyone embraced her.

Among the well-wishers was Annie Famose of France, who won the silver medal in 1:54.61. The bronze went to Fernande Bochatay of Switzerland, who covered the 68-gate course in 1:54.74.

Judy Nagel of Enumclaw, Wash., the girl who fell Tuesday, was the top U.S. finisher, covering the course in 1:57.39. Suzy Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., finished in 1:58.38, Kiki Cutter of Bend Ore., in 1:59.52 and Wendy Allen of San Pedro, Calif., in 2:00.03.

Besides a gold medal, Miss Greene's victory also brought her the world championship for women's Alpine combined. No Olympic medal is awarded for the girl who is best over-all, but the International Ski Federation gives a medal.

The Canadian, who was second in the special slalom and 10th in the downhill, was followed by Isabelle Mir of France, Miss Goitschel, Miss Famose and Olga Pall of Austria, who won the downhill.

Maier, a 29-year-old Norwegian clerk, proved his speed skating superiority at 5,000 meters shortly after Kees Verkerk of The Netherlands broke Fred's world record of 7:26.2 with a time of 7:23.2.

Stanton Faces Adena In Tourney Opener

Stanton will open the Steubenville Class A sectional basketball tournament by meeting Adena in the Steubenville Arena at 7 p.m. Feb. 22.

The Red Raiders met Adena twice during the season, winning 84-54 at home and losing 69-65 at Adena last week. Coach Dave Murray drew sixth of the non-seeded teams and chose to meet Adena. The drawings were held in Steubenville last night.

The winner of the Stanton - Adena game will meet the winner of the Yorkville - Shadyside game. Yorkville was seeded third in the tournament.

In other upper-bracket games top-seeded Mt. Pleasant takes on Dillonvale and Powhatan meets Flushing.

In the lower bracket, Wayne, seeded number two, faces Bridgeport in a game following the Stanton - Adena clash. The winner of that game meets the winner of Smithfield and Springfield. The other pairings are Hopedale, seeded number 4, against Brilliant and Mingo versus Tiltonsville.

There are no byes in the 16-team tourney.

The trade between the White Sox and the Senators may be a break for East Liverpool's Bernie Allen.

The Nats sent Tim Cullen, one of their second-base candidates, to Chicago. Now Allen's main challenger for the position is Frank Coggins.

HAROLD ALLEN, former basketball star (along with his brothers Richie and Ron) under Butler Hennon at Wampum, is averaging over 30 points a game for the Washington Senators basketball team.

LAS VEGAS tabs the Cardinals as a 2-1 choice to repeat as National League champions. Giants are 3-1, Pirates 7-2, Reds 5-1, Phillies and Braves 7-1, Cubs 8-1, Dodgers 15-1, Astros 60-1 and Mets 100-1. In the American League the Twins and Orioles are co-favorites at 7-2, the White Sox are 5-1, the Red Sox 7-1, Angels 10-1, Indians 15-1, Yankees 30-1, Senators 60-1 and Athletics 100-1.

GENE MAUCH, manager of the Phillies, picks the Cincinnati Reds to win the National League pennant. The Reds are having trouble signing Tony Perez and Lee May.

PIRATE FARMHAND Asa Small, 26, who pitched for Columbus last season, died in a fire at his home in Phillips, Maine, on Tuesday.

FORMER WEST VIRGINIA U. and Pittsburgh Ren cager Bucky Bolyard is coach of the California (Pa.) High School team, which, along with Monaca, was the first to clinch a berth in the WPIAL Tournament. California won section 14-B.

JEFF LAKE, former Midland basketball ace, is playing this season at San Jacinto JC in Texas. Lake is averaging 17 points a game, third best on the team, and is renowned for his quick hands on defense as the point man on the San Jacinto 1-3-1 zone.

EAST LIVERPOOL continues to be rated 12th in the UPI state basketball rankings. Brookfield is ranked 19th.

FIVE BROTHERS form the starting basketball team at Central Linn High in Halsey, Oregon, and not one is a senior. There is a junior, a sophomore, and 15-year-old triplets, who are freshmen.

GEORGE ZEPERNICK of Leetonia scored seven points Tuesday night as Westminster routed Pitt 96-72.

Falcons Take MAC Lead; Denison On Top In OC

By The Associated Press

Bowling Green leads the Mid-American Conference basketball race today, thanks to the high goals set by Coach Bill Fitch.

"We had set our goals to be as good as Toledo," Fitch said of Bowling Green's arch rival in the tough conference.

Fitch's Falcons were more than just "as good" Wednesday night as they trimmed the Rockets 85-78 and took over undisputed first place in the seven-team league. The teams were deadlocked at 6-2 before the game at Bowling Green.

Bowling Green now has the inside track for the championship, its first since the 1962-63 season. Toledo, defending champion, dropped to third place at 6-3. Marshall, idle Wednesday night, is in second place with a 7-3 record.

Visitors Present Different Styles

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Two tough opponents with different styles come to the Memorial Auditorium this weekend to face the East Liverpool Potters.

On Friday Barberton, a good defensive team, brings a 10-6 record to town. On Saturday Martins Ferry, a fine offensive aggregation, comes in with a 12-4 mark. "This could be our most interesting week of basketball," says Potter coach Clint McConnell.

Barberton is yielding only 52.5 points a game. The Magics are scoring only 54.5, but are adept at winning close contests. Martins Ferry is scoring at an 87.6 a game clip, but has yielded 71.4 points a contest. East Liverpool is scoring 61.3 a game and giving up 44.8.

Barberton, playing one of the toughest schedules of any Potter opponent, has won six games by seven points or less and dropped two contests by five points or less. The Magics have beaten Springfield Twp. 50 - 48, Warren Harding 71-64, Akron St. Vincent 44-38, Akron Hoban 54-51, Wadsworth 53-49, Canton Catholic 63-49, Alliance 64-41, Akron St. Vincent again 44-38, Akron Garfield 60-49 and Akron Kenmore 62-46. Losses came to Akron East 52-47, Akron Buchtel 52-50, Canton Lehman 66-47, Canton Lincoln 67-54, Cuyahoga Falls 51-36 and Akron Firestone 83-68. East Liverpool beat Harding 66-54 and Alliance 69-48.

Barberton coach Bob Dutton uses the "Tennessee Trap" 1-3-1 zone defense with double teaming on the ball at certain times. Probable starters will be 6-3 Elwood Palmer at center, 6-0 Mike Valencheck and 6-3 Al Garrand at guard. Boyd and Valnecheck enour and 6-1 Ron Boyd at guards. Robert Lewis, a 5-10 sophomore, sees lots of action at guard. Boyd and Valnecheck are seniors, the others juniors. A strong bench includes 6-6 senior John Bosnak and 6-3 sophomore Jerry Uhryk. Valencheck is the leading scorer with a 13.1 average.

Martins Ferry has all five starters averaging in double figures, led by Dave Reasbeck, brother of former Bellaire St. John's and Ohio State star Dick Reasbeck. The younger Reasbeck is averaging 23.6, while Floyd Malatesta is at 14.4, Sam Twardorski at 12.4, Paul Pettit at 10.8 and Clarence Hill at 10.2. Twardoski is a sophomore, the others seniors, but all started at the end of the year last year. Pettit is 6-4, Reasbeck 6-3, Twardosky 6-2 and the others 6-0. Jim Smith, 5-7 senior, and Rick Weiskircher, 5-11 junior, are the top subs, both averaging about seven points a game.

Purple Rider coach Roger Best, in his third year, uses a 1-3-1 offense. Martins Ferry and Barberton both like to press. McConnell terms Martins Ferry as the best shooting team on the Potters' schedule, and says that Reasbeck is a better player than the high-scoring Allen Hornyak of Bellaire St. John's. Reasbeck tied the school record with a 51-point outburst against Bridgeport earlier in the year.

The Riders won that game 127-99 and have gone over 100 against Bellaire in a 117-68 win and Shadyside in a 123-64 win. Other winners were over St. Clairsville 86-56 and 86-77, Steubenville Central 59-41 at the Steubenville Arena, Akron North 77-55, Bellaire St. John's 82-73, Wheeling 82-75, Bridgeport 90-87, Wintersville 78-61 and Bellaire 98-57. Losses were to Wheeling Central 75-73 and 75-69, Steubenville 83-65 and Wheeling 96-87, the latter Tuesday night at Wheeling. East Liverpool beat St. John's 68-54, Steubenville 52-47 and Steubenville Central 64-63.

McConnell notes that the Purple Riders have an excellent fast break. He says that Mike McVay, Rick Steffen and Bill Montgomery will try to hold down Reasbeck (not all at the same time). Jerry and Bruce Christian, Earl Diddle and Mitchell Jones will be the other starters.

Last year East Liverpool beat Martins Ferry 74-56 at Martins Ferry. Last fall the Potters whipped the Riders 46-0 in football, so the downriver lads have some incentive to win.

Bonnies Win In Overtime

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You'd think the Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, the nation's fourth-ranking team in college basketball, would be beaten if they blew an 11-point lead and lost big Bob Lanier on personal fouls. Not so.

The unbeaten Bonnies demonstrated their all-around balance with an 81-71 overtime victory over Seton Hall on the road at South Orange, N.J., Wednesday night. It was their 20th straight, 18 this season and a carryover of two from last year.

Lanier, star 6-foot-11 soph, fouled out with three minutes left in regulation time after scoring 21 points.

The Bonnies called time out and as Coach Larry Weise said later, "I just told the boys to look at the scoreboard." The Bonnies were ahead by only four points 59-55.

Billy Kalbaugh and Johnny Hayes rose to the occasion as the Bonnies pulled the game out. Kalbaugh scored the last eight St. Bonaventure points in regulation time which ended 63-63 and Hayes tallied seven of the first 10 Bonnies points in the overtime.

Hayes took over in the extra period after a three-point play by Bill Butler had put the Bonnies ahead for good in the first 20 seconds of the overtime.

"They don't need me, they can make it on their own," Lanier said afterwards.

In contrast to the Bonnies, the Duke Blue Devils, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, enjoyed a 105-65 home court romp against Wake Forest. Big Mike Lewis led the 10th-ranked Blue Devils with 31 points and 29 rebounds.

It was the eighth straight defeat for Wake Forest and the Deacons' 10th loss in a row on the road. Duke's record now is 15-3.

Bowling Green, playing at home, beat Toledo 85-78 and took over first place in the Mid-American Conference. Walt Piatkowski led the Falcons with 31 points, including the basket that put Bowling Green ahead for good at 49-47 early in the second half. Steve Mix led Toledo with 29.

Ron Guziak, held to just one basket in the first half, broke loose for 22 in the second to lead Duquesne to a 79-69 triumph over DePaul in Chicago.

In other road conquests, Davidson, led by Mike Maloy's 19 points and 23 rebounds, beat St. Joseph's, Pa., 66-60 in Philadelphia's Palestra and Western Michigan whipped the Detroit Titans 94-82.

Roger Strong's 21 points led George Washington to an upset 70-66 victory over Fordham at Arlington, Va., and Syracuse snapped a seven-game losing streak with an 83-66 home court conquest of Cornell.

Providence, also playing at home, beat Canisius 83-72 and Holy Cross edged Massachusetts 70-69 at Amherst as Keith Hocjstein scored all of his 20 points in the second half.

Denver also won at home beating the Air Force 86-71.

Unbeaten Blackbirds Want NIT

By The Associated Press

The pressure is getting heavy for Long Island University's unbeaten Blackbirds.

Coach Roy Rubin and his players are anxious to get a chance to duplicate the fabulous performance of Southern Illinois University last season.

The Salukis were the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' small college basketball ratings and then went on to win the National Invitation Tournament from a field of major college powers.

The Blackbirds would like to get into the NIT at the new Madison Square Garden. They know the invitation committee won't be able to ignore them if they wind up undefeated.

They squeezed by two more teams last week for a 16-0 record and maintained their strong grip on first place in the poll, based on games through last Saturday.

The Blackbirds had it tough topping Rider 55-52 and Hofstra 72-65.

Norfolk State, another all-winning team, lost to Delaware State 129-103 but then was awarded the game by forfeit because Delaware State used an ineligible player. So Norfolk State now has a 17-0 record. Still, the team dropped from seventh to ninth place in the poll because of the first report.

Kentucky Wesleyan, third a week ago, took over the runner-up spot from Evansville by beating the Aces 87-78 in overtime.

LIU received 11 of the 15 first-place votes and 139 points in the balloting. Kentucky Wesleyan, 14-3, got one first placer and 111 points. Evansville, 16-3, gathered 100 points.

The other members of the Top Ten, in order, were: Southwest Missouri State, McNeese State, Trinity, Texas., Southwestern Louisiana, Pan American, Norfolk State and Guilford.

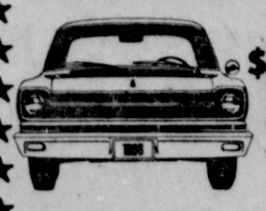

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points through games of Feb. 10 on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1.	Long Island U. (11)	139
2.	Ky. Wesleyan (1)	111
3.	Evansville	100
4.	SW Missouri St.	77
5.	McNeese State (1)	62
6.	Trinity, Tex.	61

Boston Beats Detroit In New Garden Opener

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics had little trouble winning the first basketball game played in the new Madison Square Garden — not nearly as much as they did getting into the building.

Player-Coach Bill Russell said it took him and the rest of the Celtics 35 minutes to find their way to the dressing room.

As it turned out they had plenty of time, for the start of the game was delayed another 35 minutes while protective matting was put around the basket stanchions.

Once the whistle blew and the dust began to fly — Russell and Dave DeBusschere of Detroit said dust caused by work in the building made it hard to breathe — the Celtics rolled to a 116-96 victory over Detroit.

The New York Knickerbockers then beat San Diego 114-102 in the second game of the National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Probably the busiest man at the Garden was the public address announcer who had to keep giving the score and made frequent announcements of how much time was left. The scoreboard and clock did not work.

In the only other NBA game, Philadelphia drubbed Seattle 149-125.

Boston put on a 20-4 spurt to erase a 13-point deficit and take a 53-52 halftime lead. Then after Detroit moved ahead 69-60 in the third quarter, John Havlicek and Bailey Howell sparked a 22-6 spurt that gave the Celtics an 82-66 lead and the game.

Havlicek led all scorers with 31 points. Jimmy Walker scored 19 for Detroit.

Three Knicks turned in 20-point plus performances as New York handed San Diego its 15th straight defeat, two short of the NBA record set by San Francisco in the 1964-65 season.

San Diego led 43-40 midway in the second period, and then Dick Barnett scored five straight points to put New York ahead to stay 45-43.

Barnett finished with 26, Willis Reed 23 and rookie Walt Frazier 22 for New York which boosted its record to .500, 32-32. Don Kojis led San Diego with 37.

Wilt Chamberlain destroyed Seattle with 35 points, 24 rebounds and 15 assists. All eight Philadelphia players to see action scored in double figures. Walt Hazzard topped Seattle with 25.

Phoenix Golf Plagued By Wet Weather

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A field of 144 pro golfers took aim today at the $20,000 top money in the Phoenix Open Golf Tournament, while keeping one eye on the weather.

Rain, for the fifth day in a row, halted play for almost 30 minutes during Wednesday's pro-am tournament kickoff.

The 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club course afforded players little roll on their shots and played longer than its official yardage.

The course's condition seemed to give the edge to the tour's longer hitters such as Jack Nicklaus and young Tom Weiskopf, $30,000 richer after his win in last week's Andy Williams San Diego open.

"It was wet and sloppy and gave you no roll at all," said defending champion Julius Boros. He predicted a nine-under-par 275 may win the tournament.

Five players tied for Wednesday's best score with a 68. Miller Barber, Lee Trevino, George Knudson, Chuck Courtney, Steve Opperman and Dan Sikes each won $356.

Maravich Cinch To Win Scoring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Sophomore Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State appears headed for the major college basketball scoring championship.

Statistics, released today by the National Collegiate Sports Services, show that Maravich has scored 840 points in 19 games for a 44.2-point per game average. He has seven regular season games remaining.

Runner-up Calvin Murphy has 708 points in 16 games for a 39.3 average. The Niagara sophomore would have to score 58.6 points a game in his final six to overcome Maravich if Maravich continues at his current rate.

Joe Allen of Bradley leads in field goal percentage with .663; Joe Heiser of Princeton has the best free throw percentage, .927, and Garfield Smith of Eastern Kentucky is the top rebounder with a 20.4 average.

PAUL WIGGIN

Wiggin Leaves Browns, To Assist 49ers' Nolan

CLEVELAND (AP) — After 11 years, Paul Wiggin said, the hardest thing he had to do was "put down that Browns' uniform."

The 6-foot-3, 240 pound Cleveland captain announced his retirement Wednesday to become defensive line coach for the San Francisco 49ers.

Wiggin said he evaluated the job with the 49ers and decided "I just couldn't turn it down. I had one interview with (new head coach) Dick Nolan last week and felt I made a poor impression."

"Then he called me back last weekend and told me that they wanted me," he added.

Wiggin, 33, was the Browns' sixth choice in the 1957 National Football League draft and became a regular defensive end two years later.

Wiggin is a native of California who played college ball at Stanford and said this helped influence his decision.

"We'll miss him," said Browns' Coach Blanton Collier "but as a friend, I certainly appreciate the reasons which prompted him to retire now."

Collier had Wiggin's possible retirement in mind when the Browns picked Marvin Upshaw as their first draft choice last month. Upshaw will get a tryout at defensive end.

Sports Quiz

Here is a sports quiz to test the knowledge of area sports fans.

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceeding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right. Winners will receive two tickets to a Pittsburgh Penguins game of their choice.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

A ghost won the quiz this week, as an unsigned letter from the Batesville Casket Co. of Batesville, Ind. contained all the right answers. Babe Didrikson's husband was wrestler George Zaharias, Jackie Jensen's wife is diver Zoe Ann Olsen, Karen Hantze's husband is fellow tennis-player Rod Susman, Wilma Rudolph and Ray Norton, also a track star, had a publicised romance at the 1960 Olympics, and Don Hoak married Jill Corey, a singer best known for her appearances on "Your Hit Parade." Wilt Chamberlain and Wally Jones of Philadelphia and Walt Hazzard of Seattle all attended Philadelphia's Overbrook High. In 1920 Brooklyn and Boston played 26 innings, with the game ending in a 1-1 tie. Lou Kretlow, pitcher in both major leagues in the 1950s, until recently held the record for the longest golf hole-in-one. Floyd Patterson won the heavyweight title at the age of 21, while Cassius Clay was 22 when he annexed the crown. At one time the Philadelphia Warriors had a team of Wilt Chamberlain from Overbrook High, Paul Arizin of Villanova, Tom Gola of LaSalle, Guy Rodgers of Temple and Ernie Beck of Penn.

This week's questions:

1. Where will the 1972 winter Olympics be held?
2. Where will the 1972 summer Olympics be held?
3. Who is the only person in winter Olympic history to win three skiing gold medals in the same year?
4. Where were the 1966 World Skiing championships held?
5. Who is the French Olympic skiing coach and what is the "position" he developed for his team?
6. Who is the well-known woman bowler from Philadelphia who is only 4-11 tall?
7. Who was the major league pitcher involved in the Mexican League controversy who has a son playing in the major leagues now?
8. What name is shared by a National League umpire and a former National Hockey League player and coach?
9. What was the unique feature of the 1961 "Little Army-Navy" football game and who were the participants?
10. What is the title of the theme song played on the CBS telecasts of National Football League games?

Russians Not Reaping Usual Medal Harvest

By WILL GRIMSLEY

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — The usually powerful Russians aren't digging their usual amount of gold, silver and bronze in the 10th winter Olympics, but there's no indication there will be a mass exile of athletes and trainers to Siberia.

The rest of the world is just catching up, says Igor Kazanski, vice president of the Soviet National Olympic Committee and vice chairman of Soviet sports, borrowing an old excuse from bourgeois America.

"It is a surprise when an Italian (Franco Nones) wins the 30-kilometer cross-country ski race," Kazanski said through an interpreter. "France, Italy and Holland are getting strong in those events—speed skating and Nordic skiing—that have been dominated by the Scandinavian countries and Russia.

"It is a reality we must face."

The decline of Soviet power has been one of the features—and surprises—of this big ice and snow extravaganza which is moving into the home stretch. The Games end Sunday.

Four years ago at Innsbruck, the Russians captured a total of 20 medals, including 11 gold. Five were silver and four were bronze.

Through Wednesday night's pairs figure skating, their total was two golds, four silvers and two bronze. They were assured of only one other gold—that in ice hockey.

Kazanski was an interested spectator Wednesday at the 500-meter speed-skating race at the outdoor rink adjacent to the futuristic Stade de Glace.

Two red-coated Olympic bunnies, who spoke Russian, were at his elbow for interpreting purposes. He talked glibly of the Russian sports picture.

Kazanski is a round little man who looks like a miniature Khrushchev. He is jowly with pink cheeks and a stubby nose. Like Khrushchev he has a sense of humor and is inclined to laugh heartily.

Any moment you expect him to take off an apres-ski boot and start banging it against the railing, but he doesn't.

Dressed in a fur hat, a gray parka and blue ski pants, he spent the day enthusiastically photographing the speed skaters as they crossed the finish line. He made a special effort to get Terry McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., who won a silver medal in the last race of the day.

"A courageous young man," he commented.

Kanzanski said he thought the Soviet Union perhaps had relied too heavily on experienced veterans instead of going with younger, untried talent.

"Evgeniy Grishin, you know, is 37 and Lydia Skoblikova is 28 and this is her third Olympics," he explained. "In four years, it is hard for an athlete to stay on top."

Grishin was once the world's greatest speed skater, winning three gold medals in 1956 and 1960. Miss Skoblikova had won six of the eight golds in women's speed skating prior to these games. Both competed, but failed to win a medal.

"We have many young athletes coming up," Kanzanski said. "We hope to do better in 1972."

Another Russian official said he thought the team had reached its peak about two weeks before the Games and now was going downhill.

Asked why the Russians weren't good at Alpine skiing, the Soviet sports chief said Alpine skiing was just a social recreation in Russia. "It is not demanding enough to interest sportsmen," he added.

Muskies Nip Indiana, Gain On Idle Pipers

By The Associated Press

No one's catching many Muskies—at least not the basketball variety—in Minnesota.

The Minnesota Muskies nipped the Indiana Pacers 99-96 Wednesday night for their 15th straight American Basketball Association victory at home.

Minnesota broke a 93-93 tie late in the fourth quarter with four straight points, and, then after Indiana closed to 97-95, Mel Daniels clinched it with two foul shots with 16 seconds left.

Les Hunter topped Minnesota with 26 and Daniels added 21. Freddie Lewis and Roger Brown scored 21 each for Indiana.

In other games, New Jersey trounced Oakland 121-110 and New Orleans downed Houston 106-97.

Bruce Spraggins scored 20 points in the first half as New Jersey raced to a 61-48 lead and then coasted to victory. Spraggins finished with 34 points and teammate Mel Nowell added 28. Steve Jones got 19 for Oakland.

Jesse Branson broke a 40-40 tie with a basket late in the second quarter, and New Orleans never trailed thereafter. James Jones poured in 26 points and Doug Moe 25 for New Orleans. Willie Somerset paced Houston with 19.

Yogis All Back Potters In 2 Tough Cage Frays

The last week of picking for the Yogis shows only Turk Pierce and Tom Futhey, presently co-leaders, with a chance to win the season's title.

Bob Shaffer, two games back, picked only one game differently from Pierce, so he can't gain enough. Rose Nuzzo and Bob Duffy are too far back to close the gap on the leaders.

Futhey and Pierce differed on three games. Futhey was alone in picking Ft. Cherry over Oak Glen, Futhey and Nuzzo were alone in taking Toronto over Wellsville, and Pierce and Duffy were by themselves in picking Leetonia over Columbiana. Nuzzo took a flyer on Leetonia over Poland.

All other choices were unanimous, with everyone taking East Liverpool over both Barberton and Martins Ferry, Midland over Seneca Valley, South Side over Western Beaver, East Palestine over Lisbon and Steubenville Central over Wellsville.

Wheeling Central Grid Coach Quits

WHEELING (AP) — Arthur H. Urbanic, head football coach at Wheeling Central Catholic High School, has resigned to accept a similar position at Penn Hills Township High School near Pittsburgh.

The Maroon Knights have won the West Virginia Catholic high school football championship the last four years. Urbanic's teams were undefeated during the 1966 and 1967 seasons.

A new head coach has not yet been named at Wheeling Central.

Boston Beats Detroit In New Garden Opener

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics had little trouble winning the first basketball game played in the new Madison Square Garden — not nearly as much as they did getting into the building.

Player-Coach Bill Russell said it took him and the rest of the Celtics 35 minutes to find their way to the dressing room.

As it turned out they had plenty of time, for the start of the game was delayed another 35 minutes while protective matting was put around the basket stanchions.

Once the whistle blew and the dust began to fly — Russell and Dave DeBusschere of Detroit said dust caused by work in the building made it hard to breathe — the Celtics rolled to a 118-96 victory over Detroit.

The New York Knickerbockers then beat San Diego 114-102 in the second game of the National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Probably the busiest man at the Garden was the public address announcer who had to keep giving the score and made frequent announcements of how much time was left. The scoreboard and clock did not work.

In the only other NBA game, Philadelphia drubbed Seattle 149-125.

Boston put on a 20-4 spurt to erase a 13-point deficit and take a 53-52 halftime lead. Then after Detroit moved ahead 69-60 in the third quarter, John Havlicek and Bailey Howell sparked a 22-6 spurt that gave the Celtics an 82-66 lead and the game.

Havlicek led all scorers with 31 points. Jimmy Walker scored 19 for Detroit.

Three Knicks turned in 20-point plus performances as New York handed San Diego its 15th straight defeat, two short of the NBA record set by San Francisco in the 1964-65 season.

San Diego led 43-40 midway in the second period, and then Dick Barnett scored five straight points to put New York ahead to stay 45-43.

Barnett finished with 26, Willis Reed 23 and rookie Walt Frazier 22 for New York which boosted its record to .500, 32-32. Don Kojis led San Diego with 37.

Wilt Chamberlain destroyed Seattle with 35 points, 24 rebounds and 15 assists. All eight Philadelphia players to see action scored in double figures. Walt Hazzard topped Seattle with 25.

Phoenix Golf Plagued By Wet Weather

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A field of 144 pro golfers took aim today at the $20,000 top money in the Phoenix Open Golf Tournament, while keeping one eye on the weather.

Rain, for the fifth day in a row, halted play for almost 30 minutes during Wednesday's pro-am tournament kickoff.

The 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club course afforded players little roll on their shots and played longer than its official yardage.

The course's condition seemed to give the edge to the tour's longer hitters such as Jack Nicklaus and young Tom Weiskopf, $30,000 richer after his win in last week's Andy Williams San Diego open.

"It was wet and sloppy and gave you no roll at all," said defending champion Julius Boros. He predicted a nine-under-par 275 may win the tournament.

Five players tied for Wednesday's best score with a 68. Miller Barber, Lee Trevino, George Knudson, Chuck Courtney, Steve Opperman and Dan Sikes each won $358.

Maravich Cinch To Win Scoring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Sophomore Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State appears headed for the major college basketball scoring championship.

Statistics, released today by the National Collegiate Sports Services, show that Maravich has scored 840 points in 19 games for a 44.2-point per game average. He has seven regular season games remaining.

Runner-up Calvin Murphy has 708 points in 18 games for a 39.3 average. The Niagara sophomore would have to score 58.8 points a game in his final six to overcome Maravich if Maravich continues at his current rate.

Joe Allen of Bradley leads in field goal percentage with .663; Joe Heiser of Princeton has the best free throw percentage, .927, and Garfield Smith of Eastern Kentucky is the top rebounder with a 20.4 average.

Wiggin Leaves Browns, To Assist 49ers' Nolan

CLEVELAND (AP) — After 11 years, Paul Wiggin said, the hardest thing he had to do was "put down that Browns' uniform."

The 6-foot-3, 240 pound Cleveland captain announced his retirement Wednesday to become defensive line coach for the San Francisco 49ers.

Wiggin said he evaluated the job with the 49ers and decided "I just couldn't turn it down. I had one interview with (new head coach) Dick Nolan last week and felt I made a poor impression."

"Then he called me back last weekend and told me that they wanted me," he added.

Wiggin, 33, was the Browns' sixth choice in the 1957 National Football League draft and became a regular defensive end two years later.

Wiggin is a native of California who played college ball at Stanford and said this helped influence his decision.

"We'll miss him," said Browns' Coach Blanton Collier "but as a friend, I certainly appreciate the reasons which prompted him to retire now."

Collier had Wiggin's possible retirement in mind when the Browns picked Marvin Upshaw as their first draft choice last month. Upshaw will get a tryout at defensive end.

Sports Quiz

Here is a sports quiz to test the knowledge of area sports fans.

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceeding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right. Winners will receive two tickets to a Pittsburgh Penguins game of their choice.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

A ghost won the quiz this week, as an unsigned letter from the Batesville Casket Co. of Batesville, Ind. contained all the right answers. Babe Didrikson's husband was wrestler George Zaharias, Jackie Jensen's wife is diver Zoe Ann Olsen, Karen Hantze's husband is fellow tennis-player Rod Susman, Wilma Rudolph and Ray Norton, also a track star, had a publicised romance at the 1960 Olympics, and Don Hoak married Jill Corey, a singer best known for her appearances on "Your Hit Parade." Wilt Chamberlain and Wally Jones of Philadelphia and Walt Hazzard of Seattle all attended Philadelphia's Overbrook High. In 1920 Brooklyn and Boston played 26 innings, with the game ending in a 1-1 tie. Lou Kretlow, pitcher in both major leagues in the 1950s, until recently held the record for the longest golf hole-in-one. Floyd Patterson won the heavyweight title at the age of 21, while Cassius Clay was 22 when he annexed the crown. At one time the Philadelphia Warriors had a team of Wilt Chamberlain from Overbrook High, Paul Arizin of Villanova, Tom Gola of LaSalle, Guy Rodgers of Temple and Ernie Beck of Penn.

This week's questions:

1. Where will the 1972 winter Olympics be held?
2. Where will the 1972 summer Olympics be held?
3. Who is the only person in winter Olympic history to win three skiing gold medals in the same year?
4. Where were the 1966 World Skiing championships held?
5. Who is the French Olympic skiing coach and what is the "position" he developed for his team?
6. Who is the well-known woman bowler from Philadelphia who is only 4-11 tall?
7. Who was the major league pitcher involved in the Mexican League controversy who has a son playing in the major leagues now?
8. What name is shared by a National League umpire and a former National Hockey League player and coach?
9. What was the unique feature of the 1961 "Little Army-Navy" football game and who were the participants?
10. What is the title of the theme song played on the CBS telecasts of National Football League games?

Russians Not Reaping Usual Medal Harvest

By WILL GRIMSLEY

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — The usually powerful Russians aren't digging their usual amount of gold, silver and bronze in the 10th winter Olympics, but there's no indication there will be a mass exile of athletes and trainers to Siberia.

The rest of the world is just catching up, says Igor Kazanski, vice president of the Soviet National Olympic Committee and vice chairman of Soviet sports, borrowing an old excuse from bourgeois America.

"It is a surprise when an Italian (Franco Nones) wins the 30-kilometer cross-sountry ski race," Kazanski said through an interpreter. "France, Italy and Holland are getting strong in those events—speed skating and Nordic skiing—that have been dominated by the Scandinavian countries and Russia.

"It is a reality we must face."

The decline of Soviet power has been one of the features—and surprises—of this big ice and snow extravaganza which is moving into the home stretch. The Games end Sunday.

Four years ago at Innsbruck, the Russians captured a total of 20 medals, including 11 gold. Five were silver and four were bronze.

Through Wednesday night's pairs figure skating, their total was two golds, four silvers and two bronze. They were assured of only one other gold—that in ice hockey.

Kazanski was an interested spectator Wednesday at the 500-meter speed-skating race at the outdoor rink adjacent to the futuristic Stade de Glace.

Two red-coated Olympic bunnies, who spoke Russian, were at his elbow for interpreting purposes. He talked glibly of the Russian sports picture.

Kazanski is a round little man who looks like a miniature Khrushchev. He is jowly with pink cheeks and a stubby nose. Like Khrushchev he has a sense of humor and is inclined to laugh heartily.

Any moment you expect him to take off an apres-ski boot and start banging it against the railing, but he doesn't.

Dressed in a fur hat, a gray parka and blue ski pants, he spent the day enthusiastically photographing the speed skaters as they crossed the finish line. He made a special effort to get Terry McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., who won a silver medal in the last race of the day.

"A courageous young man," he commented.

Kanzanski said he thought the Soviet Union perhaps had relied too heavily on experienced veterans instead of going with younger, untried talent.

"Evgeniy Grishin, you know, is 37 and Lydia Skoblikova is 28 and this is her third Olympics," he explained. "In four years, it is hard for an athlete to stay on top."

Grishin was once the world's greatest speed skater, winning three gold medals in 1956 and 1960. Miss Skoblikova had won six of the eight golds in women's speed skating prior to these games. Both competed, but failed to win a medal.

"We have many young athletes coming up," Kanzanski said. "We hope to do better in 1972."

Another Russian official said he thought the team had reached its peak about two weeks before the Games and now was going downhill.

Asked why the Russians weren't good at Alpine skiing, the Soviet sports chief said Alpine skiing was just a social recreation in Russia. "It is not demanding enough to interest sportsmen," he added.

Muskies Nip Indiana, Gain On Idle Pipers

By The Associated Press

No one's catching many Muskies—at least not the basketball variety—in Minnesota.

The Minnesota Muskies nipped the Indiana Pacers 99-96 Wednesday night for their 15th straight American Basketball Association victory at home.

Minnesota broke a 93-93 tie late in the fourth quarter with four straight points, and, then after Indiana closed to 97-96, Mel Daniels clinched it with two foul shots with 16 seconds left.

Les Hunter topped Minnesota with 26 and Daniels added 21. Freddie Lewis and Roger Brown scored 21 each for Indiana.

The victory moved Minnesota to within one-half game of idle, first-place Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division.

In other games, New Jersey trounced Oakland 121-110 and New Orleans downed Houston 106-97.

Bruce Spraggins scored 20 points in the first half as New Jersey raced to a 61-48 lead and then coasted to victory. Spraggins finished with 34 points and teammate Mel Nowell added 28. Steve Jones got 19 for Oakland.

Jesse Branson broke a 40-40 tie with a basket late in the second quarter, and New Orleans never trailed thereafter. James Jones poured in 26 points and Doug Moe 25 for New Orleans. Willie Somerset paced Houston with 19.

Yogis All Back Potters In 2 Tough Cage Frays

The last week of picking for the Yogis shows only Turk Pierce and Tom Futhey, presently co-leaders, with a chance to win the season's title.

Bob Shaffer, two games back, picked only one game differently from Pierce, so he can't gain enough. Rose Nuzzo and Bob Duffy are too far back to close the gap on the leaders.

Futhey and Pierce differed on three games. Futhey was alone in picking Ft. Cherry over Oak Glen, Futhey and Nuzzo were alone in taking Toronto over Wellsville, and Pierce and Duffy were by themselves in picking Leetonia over Columbiana. Nuzzo took a flyer on Leetonia over Poland.

All other choices were unanimous, with everyone taking East Liverpool over both Barberton and Martins Ferry, Midland over Seneca Valley, South Side over Western Beaver, East Palestine over Lisbon and Steubenville Central over Wellsville.

Wheeling Central Grid Coach Quits

WHEELING (AP) — Arthur H. Urbanic, head football coach at Wheeling Central Catholic High School, has resigned to accept a similar position at Penn Hills Township High School near Pittsburgh.

The Maroon Knights have won the West Virginia Catholic high school football championship the last four years. Urbanic's teams were undefeated during the 1966 and 1967 seasons.

A new head coach has not yet been named at Wheeling Central.

MICROSIPING, A PROCESS OF CUTTING precision slashes through your tire tread at an angle to the centerline, helps your tire to wear longer, run cooler and to grab the road faster and prevent skids. No new tire is made this way. Only a few tire shops have microsiping machines. Cost $4 to $6 a tire, but well worth it in tire safety!

DETROIT IS TIGHTENING LEAD TIME ON new models. It used to be 2 or 3 years from approved design to finished car. Now they have it down to six months from design O. K. to assembly line rollout!

The Future Of Public Television

NEW ORLEANS — In its first meeting since it was established last August, the National Citizens Committee for Public Television took exception to President Johnson's budget cut from a proposed $9 million to $4 million.

Hal Humphrey

The committee passed a resolution at the close of its two-day session here, urging Congress to restore the appropriation to the original amount and to reinstate a $10.5 million budget also in the Public Broadcasting Act of 1967 for facilities for the current fiscal year.

THE NATIONAL Citizen's Committee for Public Television is a group of 120 civic and cultural leaders organized to help the development of a public TV system comprised of noncommercial stations throughout the country under the Public Broadcasting Act passed last November.

At the opening of the committee's meeting this week, Thomas P. F. Hoving, chairman of the committee and director of the Metropolitan Museum of New York, read a telegram from President Johnson congratulating the committee on its statement of goals.

Taking this presidential message as "a mandate to act," Hoving and the committee passed the resolution which stated that to settle for less than the $9 million could do serious harm to the development of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

SOME MEMBERS of the committee expressed impatience over the fact that President Johnson had so far appointed only 2 of the 15 board members to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, but were told by chairman Hoving that the other appointments, including that of a chairman, were "imminent."

Aside from this, not too much concrete action resulted from the first meeting. There was no real agenda.

The first day's session was devoted largely to floor discussion among the group's members on exactly what they felt the committee could and could not do to get Public TV established on an interconnected basis comprising the 130 noncommercial stations now in existence in the country, and also to encourage new stations.

MUCH OF THE discussion centered around the different means of funding the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Several suggestions revolved around how much of it should be private and how much public, and whether or not the public portion should be under the annual review of Congress.

The Carnegie Commission Report on Public TV last year recommended an excise tax on TV sets as one major source of financing.

Also discussed were what efforts should be taken to disseminate word to the public on jut what Public TV is and how it will work. It was agreed by many members that a program of institutional public service advertising in the press and on commercial TV should be undertaken for this purpose.

SINCE National Citizens' Committee for Public Television is a nonprofit, tax-exempt educational corporation. Chairman Hoving made it clear that it is not a "TV lobbying organization."

At the same time, other members made it clear that the committee should inspire public reaction by stimulating other groups, such as the PTA, to let congressmen know their interest and the necessity for an interconnected system of public TV.

Before the meeting opened there had been talk of the committee's publishing a "white paper" concerned with its general unhappiness over the administration's foot-dragging on public TV now that the act providing it has been passed. Two of the 12 trustees vetoed this idea, however, and the resolution for restoring the appropriation cut was substituted.

ALTHOUGH the committee gave the impression of being rather disorganized at the opening session, by the end of the second day some order had come out of what looked like chaos. Chairman Hoving said he thought much had been accomplished and that the committee had proved justification for its existence.

Some discussion of the type of programming public TV should strive for was made, but most members agreed that at this particular time it was the financing needed to launch the system that was of prime priority.

If Congress does not appropriate either the $4 million asked for by President Johnson or the original $9 million asked for, then the Corporation for Public Broadcasting will remain only a gleam in the eyes of those educators and civic and cultural leaders belonging to this committee and other groups who feel commercial broadcasting has generally sold itself out for a mess of commercial pottage.

200 Permitted To Return Home After Gas Scare

LAMISON, Ala. (AP) — Some 200 residents of three small central Alabama farming communities fled their homes late Wednesday night after a Southern Railway freight train derailed and the highway patrol issued reports that deadly cyanide gas was escaping.

However, troopers later reported the gas had not escaped and residents were permitted to return to their homes.

State troopers sent to investigate the wreck discovered two tank cars loaded with highly volatile hydrocyanic acid sitting atop a burning trestle amid the wreckage.

They launched an immediate investigation of this tiny community fearing that the trestle would collapse within a half hour.

A trooper spokesman said that 20 minutes later, "There was one terrific explosion, and the whole area lit up."

"We really got to evacuating people then."

However, two chemical experts from the Du Pont Co., arriving on the scene from Nashville, Tenn., determined the explosion had occurred in a natural gas-laden car and not in the potentially lethal cyanide compound. Some six hours after the evacuation began troopers broadcast an all-clear signal, permitting residents to return to their homes.

A close check of the cyanide cars showed that they had not ruptured and that none of the lethal gas had escaped. It was first reported the trestle had collapsed, but troopers later said it was still standing.

Introduction of the double - entry system of bookkeeping is credited to Frater Lucas Paciolo, a Franciscan friar, in Italy in 1494.

Midland Council Told

Department Turns Down Request Of Resurfacing

Midland Council learned that resurfacing of Route 68 through Midland — Midland Ave. — will be deferred by the State Highway Department until the summer of 1969 because of limited funds.

William Stephens, District 11 engineer at Pittsburgh, said in a letter that work has been slated for the 1968 work period in Industry Borough to the western Borough line which is 13th St., Midland. The borough had requested resurfacing of Midland Ave. as soon as weather permitted.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard protested the reply received from the district office and moved that a letter of protest be returned.

Mayor Eli G. Corak said liquid fuel funds are available for emergency needs, and added that Route 68 through Midland is in serious condition. Because of heavy mill traffic and rerouted Chester Bridge traffic, this route should receive immediate attention, he said. Copies of the letter of protest will be mailed to Sen. Ernest P. Kline and area legislators.

J. A. Miller, maintenance superintendent of the Beaver County Highways Department, notified Council by letter that workmen will continue repairing potholes on Route 68 through Midland. He mentioned that the repair work must be done on Sundays since this is the only day when traffic permits.

George Ford, superintendent of community relations at the Midland Division of Crucible, said he feels Crucible could lend its voice in requesting immediate action on resurfacing Midland Ave., since this route is heavily traveled by steelworkers.

Council hired Charles Loll of Beaver, certified public accountant, to audit the borough's wage tax books.

Officers' reports were accepted as submitted.

Councilman William Shovlin and the health committee will endeavor to meet with Midland doctors to determine if one could agree to keep office hours on Thursdays. It was reported that no doctor keeps office hours in Midland on that day.

The borough secretary was empowered to borrow or transfer funds to meet current needs until tax monies come in. General bills totaling $12,629 were paid.

Council will meet on Feb. 28 at 8 p.m.

Former Governor Of Georgia

Wallace Chooses Griffin As No. 2 On His Ticket

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Presidential candidate George C. Wallace has chosen as his temporary—or maybe permanent—running mate a former Georgia governor who was championing states rights, advocating segregation and criticizing the Supreme Court long before Wallace.

The former Alabama governor tapped weekly newspaper Publisher Marvin Griffin Wednesday as the man whose name will be paired with him on the ballot of several states which require that vice presidential candidates be named well ahead of time.

The "temporary" tag attached to the Griffin candidacy was not detailed, but Wallace is considering an independent convention and such a convention, if held, might decide to name a vice presidential nominee to pair with Wallace.

"He (Griffin) may well be the vice presidential candidate," Wallace said. But he said the main problem now is getting on the ballot of as many states as possible.

"I have agreed to lend my name to Gov. George Wallace as a vice presidential candidate in order to help him in meeting some of the procedural requirements in several states," said Griffin, mentoning Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Nebraska and Virginia.

"I'm on the ticket with George Wallace, and I'm for him," the 60-year-old publisher said.

A review of Griffin's statements over the years reveals numerous political viewpoints which would put him in the Wallace camp.

In 1946, Griffin as a candidate for lieutenant governor urged that Georgia retain white Democratic primaries to "save this state (Georgia) from the CIO and carpetbaggers."

In 1954, he announced as a candidate for governor with the charge that the U.S. Supreme Court wants racial intermarriage and pledged to "protect and preserve" school segregation.

In 1956, Griffin, as governor, called for an all-out war against both major political parties, charging they "are trying to see which can sink the knife deepest in the back" of the South.

In 1961, he said, "the Negro may be forced to legislate himself into our schools and churches. But this will be of little benefit to him because he cannot legislate himself into the hearts of the people who know him best."

AFL-CIO To Press Johnson, Mills Fight On Tax Increase

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO political strategists plan to urge President Johnson into an open fight against Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., to win enactment of the President's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Labor sources believe Johnson income tax bill is dead unless he appeals to the voters over the head of Mills, who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and a chief congressional opponent of the proposed tax hike.

"Unless pressure is built up in the congressional districts, there isn't going to be a tax bill," said one high AFL-CIO political expert who works closely with Congress and the White House.

"We're going to start giving him hell," the source said of the AFL-CIO's plans to fight Mills in the sense of Johnson's income tax measure.

Asked if he thought Johnson might follow suit with a stiff political attack on Mills, the source said, "we hope he will."

Labor sources think Johnson has been too soft on Mills in trying to work out a compromise on the tax legislation.

The labor leaders will try to sell this point of view to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and other administration officials scheduled to speak to AFL-CIO leaders at their meetings here next week.

The AFL-CIO's concern goes far beyond the tax bill itself. The labor leaders are worried about Mills' demands for big budget cuts in federal welfare programs in exchange for acting on the tax measure.

"He's trying to undo everything Franklin D. Roosevelt did," the AFL-CIO source said in voicing concern that Congress might cut spending for education, health and housing programs if Mills gets his way.

Local Motorist Cited In Mishap

A city man was cited after his car failed to stop and struck the rear of another Wednesday at 6:45 p.m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

Officers said Louis L. McDaniels, 63, of 906 Avondale Ave. was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance when his 1961 sedan struck the rear of a 1965 sedan operated by Joel L. Petkovich, 17, of East Liverpool RD 3.

Petkovich, southbound on County Rd. 428, two-tenths of a mile south of Route 170, slowed to turn when his auto was hit, officers reported.

Another accident occurred on the same road about two miles north of 170 at 3 p. m. Wednesday, with a school bus and car involved.

Officers said a Columbiana County Retarded Children's School bus, operated by Fay L. Hillberry, 36, of Lisbon RD 3, went left of center on a curve and collided with a 1960 coach driven by Milton Adkins, 45, of East Liverpool RD 1.

Both vehicles were moderately damaged, officers reported. Hillberry was cited for driving left of center.

CAC Unit To Meet

LISBON — The Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Welfare Department Building, 117 E. Washington St. The Rev. William V. Ring, chairman, will preside.

Deadly Mixture Of Drugs Claims 7th In 6 Weeks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The coroner's office says a deadly mixture of drugs easily purchased off a drugstore shelf has claimed its seventh victim in six weeks.

And an investigation has turned up a new teen-age fad that is substituting for glue-sniffing.

It's a tea prepared from an over-the-counter remedy for asthma, said Dr. Charles L. Winek, Allegheny County toxicologist.

"We know it's in use here because samples have been sent in to this office," said Winek.

Coroner Ralph J. Stalter said Wednesday a combination of codeine and alcohol killed Joseph Johnson, 21, of the city's Homewood section. He died Jan. 25.

Johnson apparently drank a cough syrup containing codeine before he died, Stalter said.

In the Jan. 22 death of Douglas Jackson, 19, of the North Side a tissue examination turned up traces of a sleeping compound.

The other deaths all involved barbituiates.

Records of drug deaths in Pittsburgh are virtually nonexistent prior to 1965. Few cases were discoverd before efforts were made to install a medical examiner type coroner's office here three years ago.

Youth's Body Found

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The body of a Toledo youth was found Wednesday under a Maumee River bridge here. Police said it appeared the victim, Donald May, 17, who had been missing two days, jumped or fell 50 feet to his death.

Saigon Regime, Army Collapse Seen Imminent

BOSTON (AP) — Harvard Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith says the collapse of the South Vietnamese government and army are imminent.

"Anything that can effectively be called a government" in South Vietnam will disappear "within the next few weeks," he said Wednesday, and about the same time span will bring "the effective dissolution of the South Vietnamese army."

Galbraith, U.S. ambassador to India during the Kennedy administration, is national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, which last week endorsed Sen. Eugene McCarthy's campaign as a peace candidate challenging President Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He told about 100 young men attending the weekly Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the recent Viet Cong offensive ended American pacification work in hamlets, forcing the United States to "abandon the countryside."

A scruple is no longer used as a unit of weight except in the measurement of drugs. A scruple is equal to 20 grains.

The Future Of Public Television

NEW ORLEANS — In its first meeting since it was established last August, the National Citizens Committee for Public Television took exception to President Johnson's budget cut from a proposed $9 million to $4 million.

Hal Humphrey

The committee passed a resolution at the close of its two-day session here, urging Congress to restore the appropriation to the original amount and to reinstate a $10.5 million budget also in the Public Broadcasting Act of 1967 for facilities for the current fiscal year.

THE NATIONAL Citizen's Committee for Public Television is a group of 120 civic and cultural leaders organized to help the development of a public TV system comprised of noncommercial stations throughout the country under the Public Broadcasting Act passed last November.

At the opening of the committee's meeting this week, Thomas P. F. Hoving, chairman of the committee and director of the Metropolitan Museum of New York, read a telegram from President Johnson congratulating the committee on its statement of goals.

Taking this presidential message as "a mandate to act," Hoving and the committee passed the resolution which stated that to settle for less than the $9 million could do serious harm to the development of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

SOME MEMBERS of the committee expressed impatience over the fact that President Johnson had so far appointed only 2 of the 15 board members to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, but were told by chairman Hoving that the other appointments, including that of a chairman, were "imminent."

Aside from this, not too much concrete action resulted from the first meeting. There was no real agenda.

The first day's session was devoted largely to floor discussion among the group's members on exactly what they felt the committee could and could not do to get Public TV established on an interconnected basis comprising the 130 noncommercial stations now in existence in the country, and also to encourage new stations.

MUCH OF THE discussion centered around the different means of funding the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Several suggestions revolved around how much of it should be private and how much public, and whether or not the public portion should be under the annual review of Congress.

The Carnegie Commission Report on Public TV last year recommended an excise tax on TV sets as one major source of financing.

Also discussed were what efforts should be taken to disseminate word to the public on jut what Public TV is and how it will work. It was agreed by many members that a program of institutional public service advertising in the press and on commercial TV should be undertaken for this purpose.

SINCE National Citizens' Committee for Public Television is a nonprofit, tax-exempt educational corporation. Chairman Hoving made it clear that it is not a "TV lobbying organization."

At the same time, other members made it clear that the committee should inspire public reaction by stimulating other groups, such as the PTA, to let congressmen know their interest and the necessity for an interconnected system of public TV.

Before the meeting opened there had been talk of the committee's publishing a "white paper" concerned with its general unhappiness over the administration's foot-dragging on public TV now that the act providing it has been passed. Two of the 12 trustees vetoed this idea, however, and the resolution for restoring the appropriation cut was substituted.

ALTHOUGH the committee gave the impression of being rather disorganized at the opening session, by the end of the second day some order had come out of what looked like chaos. Chairman Hoving said he thought much had been accomplished and that the committee had proved justification for its existence.

Some discussion of the type of programming public TV should strive for was made, but most members agreed that at this particular time it was the financing needed to launch the system that was of prime priority.

If Congress does not appropriate either the $4 million asked for by President Johnson or the original $9 million asked for, then the Corporation for Public Broadcasting will remain only a gleam in the eyes of those educators and civic and cultural leaders belonging to this committee and other groups who feel commercial broadcasting has generally sold itself out for a mess of commercial pottage.

200 Permitted To Return Home After Gas Scare

LAMISON, Ala. (AP) — Some 200 residents of three small central Alabama farming communities fled their homes late Wednesday night after a Southern Railway freight train derailed and the highway patrol issued reports that deadly cyanide gas was escaping.

However, troopers later reported the gas had not escaped and residents were permitted to return to their homes.

State troopers sent to investigate the wreck discovered two tank cars loaded with highly volatile hydrocyanic acid sitting atop a burning trestle amid the wreckage.

They launched an immediate investigation of this tiny community fearing that the trestle would collapse within a half hour.

A trooper spokesman said that 20 minutes later, "There was one terrific explosion, and the whole area lit up."

"We really got to evacuating people then."

However, two chemical experts from the Du Pont Co., arriving on the scene from Nashville, Tenn., determined the explosion had occurred in a natural gas-laden car and not in the potentially lethal cyanide compound. Some six hours after the evacuation began troopers broadcast an all-clear signal, permitting residents to return to their homes.

A close check of the cyanide cars showed that they had not ruptured and that none of the lethal gas had escaped. It was first reported the trestle had collapsed, but troopers later said it was still standing.

Midland Council Told

Department Turns Down Request Of Resurfacing

Midland Council learned that resurfacing of Route 68 through Midland — Midland Ave. — will be deferred by the State Highway Department until the summer of 1969 because of limited funds.

William Stephens, District 11 engineer at Pittsburgh, said in a letter that work has been slated for the 1968 work period in Industry Borough to the western Borough line which is 13th St., Midland. The borough had requested resurfacing of Midland Ave. as soon as weather permitted.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard protested the reply received from the district office and moved that a letter of protest be returned.

Mayor Eli G. Corak said liquid fuel funds are available for emergency needs, and added that Route 68 through Midland is in serious condition. Because of heavy mill traffic and rerouted Chester Bridge traffic, this route should receive immediate attention, he said. Copies of the letter of protest will be mailed to Sen. Ernest P. Kline and area legislators.

J. A. Miller, maintenance superintendent of the Beaver County Highways Department, notified Council by letter that workmen will continue repairing potholes on Route 68 through Midland. He mentioned that the repair work must be done on Sundays since this is the only day when traffic permits.

George Ford, superintendent of community relations at the Midland Division of Crucible, said he feels Crucible could lend its voice in requesting immediate action on resurfacing Midland Ave., since this route is heavily traveled by steelworkers.

Council hired Charles Loll of Beaver, certified public accountant, to audit the borough's wage tax books.

Officers' reports were accepted as submitted.

Councilman William Shovlin and the health committee will endeavor to meet with Midland doctors to determine if one could agree to keep office hours on Thursdays. It was reported that no doctor keeps office hours in Midland on that day.

The borough secretary was empowered to borrow or transfer funds to meet current needs until tax monies come in. General bills totaling $12,629 were paid.

Council will meet on Feb. 28 at 8 p.m.

Former Governor Of Georgia

Wallace Chooses Griffin As No. 2 On His Ticket

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Presidential candidate George C. Wallace has chosen as his temporary—or maybe permanent—running mate a former Georgia governor who was championing states rights, advocating segregation and criticizing the Supreme Court long before Wallace.

The former Alabama governor tapped weekly newspaper Publisher Marvin Griffin Wednesday as the man whose name will be paired with him on the ballot of several states which require that vice presidential candidates be named well ahead of time.

The "temporary" tag attached to the Griffin candidacy was not detailed, but Wallace is considering an independent convention and such a convention, if held, might decide to name a vice presidential nominee to pair with Wallace.

"He (Griffin) may well be the vice presidential candidate," Wallace said. But he said the main problem now is getting on the ballot of as many states as possible.

"I have agreed to lend my name to Gov. George Wallace as a vice presidential candidate in order to help him in meeting some of the procedural requirements in several states," said Griffin, mentoning Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Nebraska and Virginia.

"I'm on the ticket with George Wallace, and I'm for him," the 60-year-old publisher said.

A review of Griffin's statements over the years reveals numerous political viewpoints which would put him in the Wallace camp.

In 1946, Griffin as a candidate for lieutenant governor urged that Georgia retain white Democratic primaries to "save this state (Georgia) from the CIO and carpetbaggers."

In 1954, he announced as a candidate for governor with the charge that the U.S. Supreme Court wants racial intermarriage and pledged to "protect and preserve" school segregation.

In 1956, Griffin, as governor, called for an all-out war against both major political parties, charging they "are trying to see which can sink the knife deepest in the back" of the South.

In 1961, he said, "the Negro may be forced to legislate himself into our schools and churches. But this will be of little benefit to him because he cannot legislate himself into the hearts of the people who know him best."

AFL-CIO To Press Johnson, Mills Fight On Tax Increase

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO political strategists plan to urge President Johnson into an open fight against Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., to win enactment of the President's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Labor sources believe Johnson income tax bill is dead unless he appeals to the voters over the head of Mills, who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and a chief congressional opponent of the proposed tax hike.

"Unless pressure is built up in the congressional districts, there isn't going to be a tax bill," said one high AFL-CIO political expert who works closely with Congress and the White House.

"We're going to start giving him hell," the source said of the AFL-CIO's plans to fight Mills in the sense of Johnson's income tax measure.

Asked if he thought Johnson might follow suit with a stiff political attack on Mills, the source said, "we hope he will."

Labor sources think Johnson has been too soft on Mills in trying to work out a compromise on the tax legislation.

The labor leaders will try to sell this point of view to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and other administration officials scheduled to speak to AFL-CIO leaders at their meetings here next week.

The AFL-CIO's concern goes far beyond the tax bill itself. The labor leaders are worried about Mills' demands for big budget cuts in federal welfare programs in exchange for acting on the tax measure.

"He's trying to undo everything Franklin D. Roosevelt did," the AFL-CIO source said in voicing concern that Congress might cut spending for education, health and housing programs if Mills gets his way.

Local Motorist Cited In Mishap

A city man was cited after his car failed to stop and struck the rear of another Wednesday at 6:45 p.m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

Officers said Louis L. McDaniels, 63, of 906 Avondale Ave. was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance when his 1961 sedan struck the rear of a 1965 sedan operated by Joel L. Petkovich, 17, of East Liverpool RD 3.

Petkovich, southbound on County Rd. 428, two-tenths of a mile south of Route 170, slowed to turn when his auto was hit, officers reported.

Another accident occurred on the same road about two miles north of 170 at 3 p. m. Wednesday, with a school bus and car involved.

Officers said a Columbiana County Retarded Children's School bus, operated by Fay L. Hillberry, 36, of Lisbon RD 3, went left of center on a curve and collided with a 1960 coach driven by Milton Adkins, 45, of East Liverpool RD 1.

Both vehicles were moderately damaged, officers reported. Hillberry was cited for driving left of center.

CAC Unit To Meet

LISBON — The Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Welfare Department Building, 117 E. Washington St. The Rev. William V. Ring, chairman, will preside.

Saigon Regime, Army Collapse Seen Imminent

BOSTON (AP) — Harvard Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith says the collapse of the South Vietnamese government and army are imminent.

"Anything that can effectively be called a government" in South Vietnam will disappear "within the next few weeks," he said Wednesday, and about the same time span will bring "the effective dissolution of the South Vietnamese army."

Galbraith, U.S. ambassador to India during the Kennedy administration, is national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, which last week endorsed Sen. Eugene McCarthy's campaign as a peace candidate challenging President Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He told about 100 young men attending the weekly Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the recent Viet Cong offensive ended American pacification work in hamlets, forcing the United States to "abandon the countryside."

Deadly Mixture Of Drugs Claims 7th In 6 Weeks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The coroner's office says a deadly mixture of drugs easily purchased off a drugstore shelf has claimed its seventh victim in six weeks.

And an investigation has turned up a new teen-age fad that is substituting for glue-sniffing.

It's a tea prepared from an over-the-counter remedy for asthma, said Dr. Charles L. Winek, Allegheny County toxicologist.

"We know it's in use here because samples have been sent in to this office," said Winek.

Coroner Ralph J. Stalter said Wednesday a combination of codeine and alcohol killed Joseph Johnson, 21, of the city's Homewood section. He died Jan. 25.

Johnson apparently drank a cough syrup containing codeine before he died, Stalter said.

In the Jan. 22 death of Douglas Jackson, 19, of the North Side a tissue examination turned up traces of a sleeping compound.

The other deaths all involved barbituiates.

Records of drug deaths in Pittsburgh are virtually nonexistent prior to 1965. Few cases were discoverd before efforts were made to install a medical examiner type coroner's office here three years ago.

Youth's Body Found

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The body of a Toledo youth was found Wednesday under a Maumee River bridge here. Police said it appeared the victim, Donald May, 17, who had been missing two days, jumped or fell 50 feet to his death.

Unknown Heirs of Edward Thomas Garvey, deceased, and his devisees, personal representatives, guardians, creditors and assigns. You are hereby notified that a complaint in condemnation has heretofore been filed in the office of the Clerk of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, in the United States Courthouse in Cleveland, Ohio, for the taking of perpetual right, power, privilege and easement in, upon, over and across the land described in Tract 1506E for the purposes set forth below, together with all right, title, and interest in and to the structures and improvements now situate on the land and all right, title and interest in and to the timber situate below elevation 664.5 feet mean sea level, in connection with the operation and maintenance of the New Cumberland Locks and Dam Project as authorized by the Act of Congress approved March 3, 1909 (35 Stat. 815; 33 U.S.C. Sec. 5); together with the continuing right to clear and remove any brush, debris and natural obstructions which, in the opinion of the representative of the United States in charge, may be detrimental to the operation of the project. Occasionally to overflow, flood and submerge the land in Tract 1506E lying above elevation 664.5 feet, mean sea level, in connection with the operation and maintenance of said project, together with the continuing right to clear and remove any brush, debris and natural obstructions which, in the opinion of the representative of the United States in charge, may be detrimental to the operation of the project. Provided that no structure for human habitation shall be constructed or maintained on said land and provided further that no other structure shall be constructed or maintained on said land except as may be approved in writing by said representative of the United States in charge of the project. As to the described land in which easements are taken, all rights and privileges which may be used and enjoyed without interfering with or abridging the rights and easements hereby taken are specifically reserved to the respective owners, their heirs, successors and assigns; the above estates are taken subject, however, to: (1) existing easements for public roads and highways, public utilities, railroads and pipelines; and (2) all outstanding interests and rights in coal, oil, gas, fire clay and other minerals and mining rights of record. Tract 1509-E.

For public use for river and harbor improvement project in connection with New Cumberland Locks and Dam Project, Ohio, River, Ohio and West Virginia.

Tract 1506-E

A certain tract of land situate in the State of Ohio, Columbiana County, in the City of East Liverpool, Township 5, Range 1, Section 30, on the plat of the Town of Jethro, dated January 9, 1838 and recorded January 12, 1838 in Deed Volume 26, Page 406 in the records of Columbiana County, Ohio, and more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the 669.5 foot contour with the line between the lands of I. H. Aronson and Edward Thomas Garvey, said point being located North 54° 59' East 102 feet from Traverse Station 8R-11 as established by the Corps of Engineers, Pittsburgh District; thence, leaving the lands of said Aronson, upstream following the meanders of the said 669.5 foot contour and severing the lands of said Garvey.

North 01° 00' East 45 feet to a point on the line of the lands of the County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Ohio; thence, leaving the said 669.5 foot contour and with the lands of said Commissioners.

South 87° 35' East 41 feet more or less to a point on the east side of Jethro Run at the intersection of said line and a contour at elevation 669.5 feet; thence, leaving the lands of said Commissioners, downstream following the meanders of the said 669.5 foot contour and severing the lands of said Garvey, as follows:

South 01° 39' West 27 feet.

South 18° 30' East 27 feet to a point on the line of the lands of I. H. Aronson; thence, leaving the said 669.5 foot contour and with the lands of said Aronson, South 86° 03' West a distance of 28 feet, more or less, to a point at the northwest corner of Lot No. 6 and the northeast corner of Lot No. 5; thence North 69° 55' West a distance of 33 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning, containing 0.01 acre, more or less. The bearings used herein are referenced to the West Virginia Grid System.

The above described tract is a part of the same land as that described in a Deed from Joseph M. Kelly and Sarah E. Kelly, husband and wife, to Harrington R. Hill, dated August 31, 1891 and recorded September 30, 1891 in Deed Volume 194, Page 25 in the records of Columbiana County, Ohio.

The authority for the taking is the Act of Congress approved Feb. 26, 1931, (46 Stat. 1421, 40 U.S.C. 258a), and acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, and under the further authority of the Act of Congress approved April 24, 1888 (25 Stat.94, 33 U.S.C. 591), which act authorizes the acquisition of land for river and harbor purposes; the Act of Congress approved March 3, 1909 (35 Stat. 815; 33 U.S.C. Sec. 5), which act authorizes the reconstruction and modification of existing river and harbor impovements; and the Act of Congress approved July 2, 1960 (Public Law 86-569), which act made funds available for such purposes.

You are further notified that if you have any objection or defense to the taking of the said Tract you are required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney at the address herein designated within twenty days after February 29, 1968 stating the nature and extent of the interest claimed and stating all your objections and defenses to the taking of your property. A failure so to serve an answer shall constitute a consent to the taking and to the authority of the court to proceed to hear the action and to fix the just compensation and shall constitute a waiver of all defenses and objections not so presented.

You are further notified that if you claim an interest in the said Tract but have no objection or defense to the taking you are required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after February 29, 1968 a notice of appearance designating the property in which you claim to be interested and the nature of your interest therein, and thereafter you will receive notice of all proceedings affecting the said Tract.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, George H. Swearingen, who passed away three years ago, February 15, 1965.
It's sometimes hard to understand
Why these things have to be.
Our sad hearts seek the answer
But it's not for us to see.
We can only trust in God
And know that in some way
It's all a part of His great plan
We'll understand some day.
The flowers we place upon his grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who lies beneath,
May never fade away.
Sadly missed by his Wife,
Daughter and Grandchildren.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE: In the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, Eastern Division, United States of America, Plaintiff v. 1.81 Acres of land, more or less, situate in Columbiana County, State of Ohio, and John L. Calhoun, et al., Defendants, Civil No. C 36505.

Unknown Heirs of Edward Thomas Garvey, deceased, and his devisees, personal representatives, guardians, creditors and assigns. You are hereby notified that a complaint in condemnation has heretofore been filed in the office of the Clerk of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, in the United States Courthouse in Cleveland, Ohio, for the taking of perpetual right, power, privilege and easement in, upon, over and across the land described in Tract 1506E for the purposes set forth below, together with all right, title, and interest in and to the structures and improvements now situate on the land and all right, title and interest in and to the timber situate below elevation 667.5 feet, mean sea level: Permanently to overflow, flood and submerge the land in Tract 1506E lying below elevation 664.5 feet mean sea level, in connection with the operation and maintenance of the New Cumberland Locks and Dam Project as authorized by the Act of Congress approved March 3, 1909 (35 Stat. 816; 33 U.S.C. Sec. 5); together with the continuing right to clear and remove any brush, debris and natural obstructions which, in the opinion of the representative of the United States in charge may be detrimental to the operation of the project. Occasionally to overflow, flood and submerge the land in Tract 1506E lying above elevation 664.5 feet, mean sea level, in connection with the operation and maintenance of said project, together with the continuing right to clear and remove any brush, debris and natural obstructions which, in the opinion of the representative of the United States in charge, may be detrimental to the operation of the project. Provided that no structure for human habitation shall be constructed or maintained on said land and provided further that no other structure shall be constructed or maintained on said land except as may be approved in writing by said representative of the United States in charge of the project. As to the described land in which easements are taken, all rights and privileges which may be used and enjoyed without interfering with or abridging the rights and easements hereby taken are specifically reserved to the respective owners, their heirs, successors and assigns; the above estates are taken subject, however, to: (1) existing easements for public roads and highways, public utilities, railroads and pipelines; and (2) all outstanding interests and rights in coal, oil, gas, fire clay and other minerals and mining rights of record. For public use for river and harbor improvement project in connection with New Cumberland Locks and Dam Project, Ohio River, Ohio and West Virginia.

Tract 1506-E

A certain tract of land situate in the State of Ohio, Columbiana County, in the City of East Liverpool, Township 5, Range 1, Section 30, being a part of Lot No. 7 as shown on the plat of the Town of Jethro, dated January 9, 1838 and recorded January 12, 1838 in Deed Volume 26, Page 405 in the records of Columbiana County, Ohio, and more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the 669.5 foot contour with the line between the lands of I. H. Aronson and Edward Thomas Garvey, said point being located North 54° 59' East 102 feet from Traverse Station 8R-11 as established by the Corps of Engineers, Pittsburgh District; thence, leaving the lands of said Aronson, upstream following the meanders of the said 669.5 foot contour and severing the lands of said Garvey,

North 01° 00' East 48 feet to a point on the line of the lands of the County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Ohio; thence, leaving the said 669.5 foot contour and with the lands of said Commissioners,

South 87° 35' East 41 feet more or less to a point on the east side of Jethro Run at the intersection of said line and a contour at elevation 669.5 feet; thence, leaving the lands of said Commissioners, downstream following the meanders of the said 669.5 foot contour and severing the lands of said Garvey, as follows:

South 01° 39' West 27 feet.

South 18° 30' East 27 feet to a point on the line of the lands of I. H. Aronson; thence, leaving the said 669.5 foot contour and with the lands of said Aronsons, South 86° 03' West a distance of 28 feet, more or less, to a point at the northwest corner of Lot No. 6 and the northeast corner of Lot No. 5; thence North 69° 55' West a distance of 23 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning, containing 0.05 acres, more or less, all of which lies below a contour at elevation 669.5 feet and of which 0.03 acres, more or less, lies below a contour at elevation 664.5 feet.

The above described tract is a part of the same land as that described in a Certificate to Recorder, Real Estate Devised by Will from Margaret Garvey to Edward Thomas Garvey, dated December 1, 1931 and recorded December 3, 1931 in Deed Volume 516, Page 602 in the records of Columbiana County, Ohio.

The authority for the taking is the Act of Congress approved Feb. 26, 1931 (46 Stat. 1421, 40 U.S.C. 258a), and acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, and under the further authority of the Acts of Congress approved April 24, 1888 (25 Stat. 94, 33 U.S.C. 591) which act authorizes the acquisition of land for river and harbor purposes; the Act of Congress approved March 3, 1909 (35 Stat. 818; 33 U.S.C. Sec. 5), which act authorizes the reconstruction and modification of existing river and harbor impovements; and the Act of Congress approved July 2, 1960 (Public Law 86-569), which act made funds available for such purposes.

You are further notified that if you have any objection or defense to the taking of the said Tract you are required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney at the address herein designated within twenty days after February 29, 1968 stating the nature and extent of the interest claimed and stating all your objections and defenses to the taking of your property. A failure so to serve an answer shall constitute a consent to the taking and to the authority of the court to proceed to hear the action and to fix the just compensation and shall constitute a waiver of all defenses and objections not so presented.

You are further notified that if you claim an interest in the said Tract but have no objection or defense to the taking you are required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after February 29, 1968 a notice of appearance designating the property in which you claim to be interested and the nature of your interest therein, and thereafter you will receive notice of all proceedings affecting the said Tract.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, George H. Swearingen, who passed away three years ago, February 15, 1965.

It's sometimes hard to understand
Why these things have to be.
Our sad hearts seek the answer
But it's not for us to see.
We can only trust in God
And know that in some way
It's all a part of His great plan
We'll understand some day.
The flowers we place upon his grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who lies beneath,
May never fade away.
Sadly missed by his Wife,
Daughter and Grandchildren.

This is really an outstanding kitchen and it is something to behold. 2nd floor: 2 large bedrooms and bath, full cemented basement, gas furnace, new hot water tank, gas incinerator, new wiring, new plumbing, large front and side porch, 2 car garage, lot 50 x 154. Extras included: new 5 piece dinette set, 23 inch TV, and all wall to wall carpeting. You must see the inside of this home to appreciate that it's a steal at $10,900.

Corner 5th & Washington Sts., Bergholz. 2 story brick home. 1st floor: large living room with a gorgeous marble fireplace. Family room, kitchen with a huge stone fireplace, pantry, an enclosed back porch and a large front porch. Hardwood floors: 2nd floor: 4 large bedrooms, and a modern tiled bath. Cemented basement, new coal furnace, 2 car garage and a 2 room summer house. 1.351 acres of nice laying land. This home still has its original splendor. $9,900.

304 High St., Salineville. 2 story home, first floor: large living room, family room with a brick fireplace, dining room and kitchen. 2nd floor: 3 large bedrooms and bath, cemented basement, brand new gas fired hot water heating system. Large porch, lot 60 x 50. In anybody's language it's a steal at $5,000.

Near Highlandtown Lake. Modern 1½ story home, large living room, dining room, modern kitchen with built in range and oven, plenty of birch cabinets, and modern bath. 2nd floor: 3 bedrooms. Basement, new oil furnace, new front porch, new 2 car garage plus 4.31 acres lot with 992 ft. of road frontage. $8,000.

FORD For Capable Service For Customer Satisfaction

IN CHESTER

You'll Be Satisfied With These 7 Steps

1. • Accurately diagnose the repairs needed on your car.
2. • Secure your authorization to do the work before starting.
3. • Notify you in advance of any additional work we think should be done.
4. • Perform all the work on your car as efficiently and as economically as possible and replace only those parts which in our judgment need replacing.
5. • Road test your car after the work is done.
6. • Have your car ready on time.
7. • Provide you with an itemized bill showing exactly what work was done and exactly what it cost.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Feb. 15, the 46th day of 1968, there are 320 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1898, the battleship Maine blew up in the harbor at Havana, Cuba.

On this date:

In 1564, the Italian stronomer, Glileo, ws born.

In 1943, Swedish colonial governor, Johann Printz, arrived at Fort Christina which now is Wilmington, Del.

In 1764, St. Louis, Mo., was established as a fur trading post.

In 1933, Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago was shot and killed in Miami, Fla. The killer was attempting to assassinate President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1942, Singapore surrendered to the Japanese in World War II.

In 1944, nearly 1,000 British bombers pounded Berlin.

Ten years ago — Opponents of Indonesia's President Sukarno set up a rebel government in Sumatra.

Five years ago — The French government announced that a plot to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle had been thwarted and five men were under arrest.

One year ago — South Korean forces in South Vietnam killed more than 240 Communists in a three-hour clash.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: How high do birds fly?

ANSWER: There are several things which put a limit to the upward range of a bird's flight. These are based on the fact that the air or atmosphere thins out as we move higher above the earth's surface. Air contains oxygen, which is essential for either birds or men in order to breathe. Astronauts can soar upward into airless regions because they carry their own oxygen supply with them. A bird can not do this, so they must fly at heights where enough oxygen is present in order to be able to breathe. It is the air, also, passing over the curved surfaces of birds' wings, which holds them up; another reason for birds keeping to lower levels. In spite of such limitations, however, birds do fly at surprising heights. We can't give one exact ceiling figure—it would vary too much with the individual kind of bird. But we can report to you actual heights at which some high-flying birds have been seen and photographed. The snow goose, photographed at 6½ miles up, seems to hold the height record. The huge, ungainly looking condor has reached almost 20,000 feet up; eagles up to about 10,000 feet; swallows about 1500 feet. The fastest bird is the swift—up to 200 miles an hour.
